Britain Will Not Consider Giving Up Mandate Areas

Sir Samuel Hoare Says Question Is Not to Be Raised; Conservative Party Conference Approves British Government's Rearmament Programme

Baldwin Not At Party Sessions

Canadian Press
Margate, Kent, Eng., Oct. 1.—The government, through its spokesman, Sir Samuel Hoare, reaffirmed today at the annual conference of the Conservative Party of Great Britain here today that it had no intention of raising the question of transfer of British mandated territories.

Sir Samuel, First Lord of the Admiralty, made this clear after the conference had adopted unanimously a resolution approving the government's defence policy. Earlier he had outlined the progress of the rearmament programme.

Sir Samuel reviewed Prime Minister Baldwin's statement in the House of Commons last April, in which Mr. Baldwin made the legal position of mandates clear. The latter showed that no provision was made for the transfer of mandates and assured the House the government had no intention of raising the matter.

ASSURANCES ASKED
The conference adopted by acclamation a resolution urging the government to give assurance that the statement of Sir John Simon (then Foreign Secretary) to Chancellor Hitler in March, 1935, to the effect that cessation of any British mandated territory was not a discussable question still represented the government's unalterable attitude.

ARMAMENTS RACE
In his speech on rearmament, Sir Samuel said the position had become "substantially worse" since six months ago, when the government drew a picture of vast armaments being accumulated by the larger countries. These had since added to their programmes, while small countries such as Belgium, Holland, and Switzerland had been forced to embark on large schemes of rearmament.

"Faced with European rearmament, we have no alternative but to carry through with the least possible delay (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Bilbao was again bombed by insurgent airplanes yesterday, dispatches stated. The food shortage in the city is acute.

The attack, believed to be the "big push" promised by the insurgents since the fall of Toledo, started on a wide area in the sector north of Madrid, the official statement said.

Insurgent columns in the Guadarrama Mountains joined the drive and in rapid succession captured the town, south and east also were

URGE WIDER EVANGELISM

United Church Plans Four Years of Prayer and Study of Conditions

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The General Council of the United Church of Canada today charged its sessional committee on evangelism and social service with consideration of a proposed four-year programme of Christianizing Canadian life.

The proposal for a four-year programme was brought before the council by Rev. Dr. John Mackay of Winnipeg. He suggested it take the form of study and prayer looking to improvement in conditions arising from such modern problems as unemployment, danger of war and religion.

Rev. A. D. MacKenzie of Regina, speaking on the proposed four-year programme, said he had found extremists, seeking to change the order of things overnight, were working busily while church people were "merely digging their heels in." Efforts should be made to force recognition of the "fact a man is not a Bolshevik because he wishes to bring about Christian conditions."

Japanese Marines Hold "Little Tokio" Area of City; in Japan Army Staff Maps Plans For Possible Military Campaign in China

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Shanghai, Oct. 2.—Frightened Chinese citizens of Chapel

trickled out of their home district early today while Japanese marines held "Little Tokio," the nearby Japanese colony, isolated behind a ring of bayonets.

The marines throughout last night maintained street patrols in and around Hongkew area, suddenly placed under augmented martial control yesterday.

A Chinese report said the Japanese authorities will withdraw their patrol—twenty-four hours after a verdict is returned in the Nakayama case, "provided there are no untoward events."

The verdict in this case, the trial of alleged killers of a Japanese naval officer, Haseo Nakayama, is expected this afternoon.

Nakayama was slain November 10, 1935.

JAPANESE STAFF PLANNING

FIVE SEAMEN DESERT SHIP

Greek Freighter Meropi Comes Here to Sign on Men in Their Place

To sign on sailors from Vancouver, who will take the place of five men who deserted yesterday at Seattle and Everett, the Greek freighter Meropi came into the Royal Roads early this afternoon and dropped anchor.

The five seamen were dispatched from Vancouver this morning by the St. Princess Marguerite. They will be transferred to the Meropi late this afternoon by tender.

The men who deserted claimed their ship was unworthy. The vessel took a decided list while her ballast tanks were being cleaned and filled in Seattle yesterday, but David B. Girdwood, agent there, said there was no danger and that the list was immediately corrected.

Four of the sailors deserted in Seattle and one at Everett, United States immigration officers are searching for them.

After taking on the new sailors the Meropi will put to sea, bound for China, with lumber, piling and general freight.

REICH HINTS AT COLONIES RETURN

Associated Press
Berlin, Oct. 1.—Germany is willing to devalue the mark as an aid to settling the world economic situation, an authoritative source said today, if other powers are willing to pay the high compensating price which the Reich asks.

That, in brief, a competent official commented, was the correct, authoritative interpretation, of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's statement yesterday to the directors of the Reichsbank on the French monetary crisis.

The price, this source said, if the other powers want the mark devalued badly enough, is the solution of Germany's raw material problem—meaning return of the colonies lost at Versailles and a settlement in the Reich's favor of its foreign debts.

WIDEN SEARCH FOR V. GRAVLIN

Circulars Sent to All Canada and in U.S.; Murder War-rant Issued

A warrant for the arrest of Victor Raymond Gravin for the murder of his attractive thirty-year-old wife, Doris Gravin, was issued yesterday by Oak Bay Police, and today plans were laid for a widespread search for the former local sports writer.

Mrs. Gravin's body was found last Sunday afternoon in an isolated spot on the Oak Bay waterfront, where she was partly buried after having been asphyxiated through strangulation.

Despite an intense investigation, during which the municipality had the complete co-operation of the provincial police and Inspector J. P. C. E. Vance, Vancouver criminologist, police today were not prepared to say they had advanced much further towards locating Gravin.

Inspector Vance has returned to Vancouver after finishing several clues which definitely set out the movements of the estranged married couple on the night of the murder, Tuesday, September 22.

In the broom bushes near the road, where the actual struggle between the murderer and his auburn-haired wife is supposed to have taken place, Mr. Vance found traces of human hair which matched that of Gravin, taken from a cap worn by him.

Mr. Vance also found traces of blood leading from the woods to the beach, along the trail which the bloodhound took when given the scent of the body.

Several hundred circulars notifying police that Gravin is wanted for the murder have been printed by police and this afternoon were mailed out to principal cities of Canada and various points along the Pacific Coast.

On the assumption that Gravin is still alive, police are mystified by the disappearance of Mrs. Gravin's missing clothing—her coat and shoes.

No one has yet come forward to identify the pair of light tan shoes which were found on the waterfront.

WEIR BACK FROM EAST

Negotiations Opened For Care of Sick By Provinces

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, arrived back in Victoria this morning after three weeks' absence in eastern Canada, taking up government business.

While in Ottawa, Dr. Weir discussed with the Dominion Government the question of provinces paying for the upkeep of their residents who have become public charges in other provinces, through ill-health, or otherwise.

Ottawa, Dr. Weir said, has agreed to act as intermediary between the provinces in negotiating this subject, which is of particular interest to British Columbia, since this province is a mecca for persons from other provinces who are in bad health, he said.

Matters affecting superannuation of municipal employees were taken up with actuaries in the east by the minister.

Dr. Weir is remaining at his home to rest up for a day or two after his trip.

Pattullo Favors New Immigration

Canadian Press
Regina, Oct. 1.—Dentists in Regina went on strike today, refusing to treat relief cases until some definite agreement had been made with the city regarding payment for services. The strike is the result of a difference between the city and the dentists regarding the rate of charges for relief work.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 1.—Premier T. D. Pattullo said before leaving today on an automobile tour of the Fraser Valley that he favored a resumption of immigration into Canada.

"It is a broad question, of course, and one that must be gone into carefully," he said, adding that any large-scale immigration scheme would have to be managed so that not only would the immigrants be settled in a self-supporting way, but also so that Canada's unemployed would be taken care of and found employment.

TRAFFIC NEEDED
"I have always held that this country was developed on the assumption that it would hold a large population," the Premier said. "Our railways, as they are today, must have traffic if they are to prosper, and unless our railways prosper a large section of our population suffers."

"In addition, it must not be forgotten that the very fact of bringing 300,000 to 350,000 immigrants a year into the country would itself be a great impetus to business in the country," he said.

Co-winner of 1934 London-Melbourne Air Race Pilots Machine to Victory at Average of 123 Miles An Hour; M. Findlay and Wireless Operator Morgan Killed in Crash of Waller Plane in Rhodesia; Only Entrants Now in Race Out of Original Nine Are at Khartum and in Greece

Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's
Johannesburg, South Africa, Oct. 1.—C. W. A. Scott and Giles Guthrie flew to victory today in the England-Johannesburg Air Derby, but word arrived here a few hours later that two of the men in the race had been killed in the crash of their plane at Abercorn, Northern Rhodesia. They were Max Findlay and Wireless Operator Morgan, flying with Ken Waller. They were in second place in the 6,500-mile race at the time.

Waller and a passenger named Peachey suffered from shock, but otherwise were unhurt. The plane crashed as they were taking off from Abercorn.

Scott and Guthrie landed at 10:34 a.m. GMT. (2:34 a.m. P.S.T.). Their time for the flight from Portsmouth was 52 hours 56 minutes 48.2 seconds, an average speed of 123 miles an hour.

TWO PLANES GROUNDED
The only other entrants left in the race out of the original nine, were both grounded. Engine trouble held A. E. Clouston at Khartum, in the Sudan, while Victor Smith was down near Salonika, Greece. The mishaps which had eliminated so many competitors left Clouston in second place and Smith third.

CHEERED BY 2,000
Although a great crowd had waited through the night to greet Scott, famous as co-victor with the late T. Campbell Black in the London-Melbourne Air Derby in 1934, and his companion, Guthrie, only 2,000 remained to cheer their arrival. The remainder were driven home by a dust storm, thrown up by a gusty wind.

The machine made a perfect landing. It taxied up to the arrival platform, where the winners were greeted by Hon. Oswald Pirov, South African Defence Minister; Isadore W. Schlesinger, the South African millionaire, who donated the prizes, and Sir Pierre Van Ryneveld, the first man to fly from England to South Africa.

Although they had twenty-five hours in hand if they wished to attack Mrs. Amy Mollison's record for the England-Cape Town record, Pilot Scott decided against continuing to the Cape. He and Guthrie will receive $20,000 of the $50,000 put up by Schlesinger.

NEW DEBATE ON DISARMAMENT

Premier King Represents Canada on Committee Set Up By League Assembly at Geneva

Associated Press
Geneva, Oct. 1.—The steering committee of the League of Nations, decided to set up a disarmament committee today as hopes for a discussion of arms limitation showed faint signs of life in League circles.
Prime Minister King was named to represent Canada on the disarmament committee. Senator Dandurand was named a substitute representative.
Hungary cast a slight damper on the disarmament hopes, however, announcing the would abstain from work with the commission "in view of the position taken by certain powers on the principle of equality in armaments."

COUNCIL EXPANDED
The Assembly voted to increase the number of non-permanent members on the Council from nine to eleven. China, as a representative of the Far East, which has had no delegate since Japan withdrew, and Latvia were expected to receive the new seats.

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Geneva, Oct. 1.—The case for peace was laid before League of Nations delegates from fifty nations today by Viscount Cecil of Chelwood.
Lord Cecil headed a delegation of 150 gathered to present to Savoyras, president of the League Assembly, the resolutions adopted at the Brussels Peace Conference. Senator Lamas received the delegation in the Assembly hall with the League delegates occupying their accustomed seats.
"The issue lies between might and right," said Lord Cecil. "The controversy between might and right has been settled in favor of the right so far as the individual is concerned. It is our intention it must be settled in the same way in international matters. We are certain that if the voice of the people can make itself heard it will be so settled."

NATIONAL COMMITTEES
The international peace campaign, he said, neither supported nor opposed any form of government or economic system. The Brussels congress advocated peace through the League of Nations, nothing else. The peace campaign hoped to see created national committees in all countries consisting of representatives of all organizations interested in peace.

FRANC BILL PASSED IN FRANCE AFTER THREE-DAY TUSSLE

Parliament Agrees to Devaluation of Currency, But Provides Checks on Government's Control of Cost of Living

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 1.—The French Chamber of Deputies late today gave final parliamentary approval to devaluation of the franc, adopting the monetary measure, with its compromise clause on price fixing decrees, by a vote of 354 to 217.
The vote meant that only the promulgation of President Lebrun is necessary to make reduction of the gold content of the franc a law.

Before the final ballot, the chamber had adopted, by show of hands, the compromise Senate clause which provides a check on efforts by the government to control the cost of living.
The government and the Senate, earlier, had met together on the devaluation bill in a political atmosphere charged with threats of disorder.
"Remove that the capital's mobile guards were being reinforced were reflected in the Senate debate, where speakers urged avoidance of 'the psychosis of civil war.'"

THREE-DAY TUSSLE
Final passage of the devaluation bill ended a three-day battle between the Senate and the Chamber. The government, after a first futile attempt to get full decree powers to fight price rises which are expected to follow devaluation, accepted a compromise text from the Senate which both houses passed. As finally approved, the measure allows the government to issue decrees for this purpose, but only with the consent of the National Economic Council and only for the next six months.
So-called "social measures" carrying compensation for devaluation to special groups were eliminated from the measure. Several of these, put into separate bills, were approved by the Chamber and sent to the Senate.

STOCK PROFITS TAX
One of the individual measures imposes a special 50 per cent tax on profits from speculative stock exchange transactions during the period immediately preceding last week's decision to devalue.
Another authorizes the Finance Ministry to advance $2,000,000,000 from treasury funds to the Land Bank to permit limitation of interest on mortgage loans to a maximum of 5 per cent.

A third will accord "Advantages" to holders of treasury bonds and is intended to prevent the holder from losing through devaluation.
The fourth restores pension cuts to retired government employees.
Prior to the main devaluation vote, the Chamber had approved the measure provided for restoration of veterans' pension cuts.

GOES TO GENEVA
Premier Leon Blum announced he would leave Paris late tonight on a delayed journey to Geneva to indicate his confidence in the government's devaluation difficulties were ended.

The Chamber finance committee today accepted the compromise definitively after the Senate had passed the substitute measure without a record vote.
The clause approved by the Senate, the clause concerning the issue of decree powers to fight price increases provides for obligatory arbitration and conciliation of labor disputes arising from rises in the cost of living.

The government, in the case of strike trouble, could, with the approval of the National Economic Council, issue decrees forcing both sides to submit their troubles for solution.
The government would have similar decree power, always with the council's check, for altering and enforcing application of collective wage contracts and for revising prices of prime agricultural products.
Such decrees would be effective for not more than six months, and to become permanent would have to be enacted into law by parliament.

JAIL PENALTIES
The compromise clause specifies that penalties of imprisonment or fine or both. A national price surveillance committee, under the Minister of National Economy, will see to it that this is enforced.

U.S. Pacific Coast Firms Raise Level $1.50 a Ton; B.C. Mills to Follow

Associated Press
San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Price boosts of $1.50 a ton for 1937 newsprint by Pacific Coast producers, announced today, put contract business at $42.50 a ton on 1937 orders.

The Crown Zellerbach Corporation quoted a non-contract or spot price of $46 a ton—the first Pacific Coast spot price fixed in several years.
One reason for reviving the spot price was the possibility of coast maritime labor troubles interfering with normal movement. The great bulk of newspaper purchases are made under contract.
Higher prices were accounted for by rising demand. Scandinavian producers in particular are finding a ready market nearer home.
B.C. MILLS
Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 1.—W. Barclay, sales manager of the Powell River Co., today said his company probably would fall in line with any newsprint price increase made by United States companies.
"We have been waiting to see what the United States Pacific Coast companies would do," Mr. Barclay said, "but will undoubtedly follow their example, boosting our contract price to $42.50 a ton on 1937 orders."

Many Shanghai Chinese Flee During New Crisis

SHANGHAI SITUATION
Reports, meanwhile, were published in Tokyo newspapers describing the situation in Shanghai as almost impossible to solve without force. Gen. Chiang Kai-shek was reported eager to resist Japan.
The Nichi Nichi, a Tokyo newspaper, declared China was definitely preparing for war. It asserted the central bank of China and other banks in Shanghai were removing important documents and large quantities of silver to the interior, all in preparation for evacuating the city.

STRONGER EMPIRE
Two lessons stood out beyond fear of contradiction, said the First Lord of the Admiralty. The first was the utility of one-sided disarmament and the second the need for a greatly strengthened British empire as a stabilizing force for peace.
He said Germany was spending $4,000,000,000 ($400,000,000) annually on military activities. The proportion of Japan's total budget devoted to the army and navy had reached the striking figure of 46 per cent.

Sir Samuel referred to the rearmament programmes of France, Russia and the United States. He declared no wise and patriotic citizen could ignore those fighters. The weakness or supposed weakness of the British Empire had proved by bitter experience to be a disturbing factor in international politics.
Referring to the progress of British rearmament, he said the naval construction programme had proceeded more quickly than was expected. Officers and men of excellent standards were flocking to the Air Force, while new types of aircraft which shortly would come into use would stand favorable comparison with any in the world. But it was inevitable, after almost scrapping the supply of machinery for the army in post-war years, that it would take time to restore it to full operation.

"We have not yet reached the point where it is necessary to impose war conditions, returning the returning prosperity of the country," Sir Samuel continued. "We still believe the wisest course from a broad national standpoint is to avoid as long as we can a great economic upheaval of this kind."

RECRUITING PROBLEMS
"Perverted pacifism and partisan obstruction" undoubtedly had an effect on recruiting for the army. The government was taking steps to bring the needs of the nation and the advantages of a service career definitely before the country.

The First Lord appealed to responsible labor leaders to assist, as was done during the Great War. He said there was nothing in the government's programme which was not necessary for carrying out Great Britain's obligations under the system of collective peace or sustaining the life of man and maintaining the prosperity of a great people without whose influence the world would drift into despair and chaos.

Building up of the fleet and expansion of the air force, he said, were essential and must be assured. Re-equipment and strengthening of the army were no less necessary. The government could not agree to any disarmament proposals stereotyping Britain's relative weakness.

"If, as all hope, we can arrive at a general limitation of armaments, our programme has been completed," Sir Samuel declared.

ACCELERATION PLANNED
Definite progress had been made in recent months and the rate would be greatly accelerated in the future. The 1936 naval programme alone consisted of two battleships, seven cruisers, eight submarines, six aircraft carriers, six motor-torpedoers, eighty per cent of the expenditure for the navy had been in the distressed areas, he continued. Once again activity was returning to shipyards. "Once again our suffering fellow-citizens have a chance of honorable work and a share in a great national effort."

DEFENCE COMMITTEE
Referring to the absence of Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for Co-ordination of the Defence Forces, Viscount Swinton, Secretary for Air, and Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, he said they actually were sitting with the committee for Imperial Defence.

Prime Minister Baldwin will not attend the conference. He is extending his holiday in the country until Parliament meets again at the end of this month. In his absence, the main address at the conference will be delivered by Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Two other insurgent columns marched toward separate objectives: The first, operating from Toledo, pushed toward Aranjuez, important railway junction to the east and itself only twenty-eight miles southeast of the capital.
The other moved along the Maqueda-Madrid highway toward Navalcarnero, twenty miles southwest of Madrid.

Madrid, Oct. 1.—The Spanish Parliament, meeting for the first time since shortly before the civil war, today approved an autonomous statute for the Basque regions of northern Spain and heard Premier Francisco Largo Caballero announce his determination to establish a workers' republic.
The autonomous statute will give the three provinces of Alava, Guipuzcoa and Vizcaya a regime similar to that of Catalonia, within the Spanish republic.

They will receive home rule for local affairs, while the Madrid government will control matters of national interest affecting the area.
The Basques have demanded an autonomous state, and the government felt the measure actually would increase their allegiance to Madrid. However, of the three main cities of the region, the government controls only Bilbao. San Sebastian and Victoria are in the hands of the insurgents.

GOVERNMENT GIVEN POWERS
Largo Caballero, in announcing he was intent on formation of a republic of the proletariat, pointed out this was in line with the first article of the Spanish constitution.
The congress, in one of the most extraordinary sessions in the history of Spain, also postponed the debate and granted the government full powers to conduct the war.

Approximately 100 deputies, virtually all of them representing popular Front parties, gathered in the historic Cortes building under heavy guard.

PLANES ON GUARD
A squadron of loyal airplanes flew overhead.
Anti-aircraft guns manned strategic capital points, to beat off any attempt by insurgent "black birds of death" to create havoc during the session.

The Parliament adjourned until December 1 after a brief session.
Premier Largo Caballero, in a short ministerial address, declared "the social and economic structure of the country will change when the fighting is over and the republic becomes a republic of all the workers."

Toledo, Spain, Oct. 1.—Persistent insurgents pushed a steel spearhead to within twenty miles of Madrid today as Socialist defenders retreated from Illescas.

Insurgent officers, despite the advance which continued after the penetration at Illescas, made ready for an expected engagement a short distance north, where Socialist troops were reported entrenched in preparation for fierce resistance.

SIEGE AT PORT
Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 1.—(Associated Press).—Six hundred Fascist insurgents in Port Estrecho de Quinto are surrounded by 3,000 Spanish government militiamen in a critical siege similar to that of the Alcazar fortress at Toledo, the Portuguese capital, where the Portuguese Patriotic Forces reported today.
The only supplies reaching Port Estrecho, which is a few miles east of Huesca, were said to have been dropped by insurgent airplanes.

A column of Fascists from the Bilbao sector soon will be released to make a forced march to Huesca in an attempt to raise the siege.

Earl Browder Freed By Police

Communist Candidate For U.S. Presidency Spent Night in Jail

Associated Press
Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 1.—Chief of Police James C. Yates today released from jail Earl Browder, Communist candidate for the United States presidency, and four associates who were arrested yesterday morning when they came here to hold a campaign meeting.
Though the police chief acted yesterday to prevent Browder making a speech, the address was given anyway—read over the radio yesterday evening by the candidate's attorney, David J. Bentall, of Chicago.
After the chief had been successful in preventing the holding of a public Communist meeting, Bentall hurried into the local radio station, brushed past several policemen and was locked in a tiny broadcasting room, from where he read Browder's speech.
Chicago sent several more officers and approximately fifty citizens arrived almost at the same time, but they could only stand outside the door while Bentall talked for a full hour.

DAMAGES ASKED
Shortly after Browder and his associates had been released from jail today, David J. Bentall, Chicago attorney, said he would seek damages for the five on the grounds they had been falsely arrested and imprisoned. Bentall said suit would be filed against Mayor Samuel Becher and Police Chief James C. Yates.

PLANE CRASHED
David Llewellyn and C. F. Hucheston, unreported since flying over Etstobbe, Uganda, 1:15 p.m. yesterday, crashed near Mpulungu, Lake Tanganyika. Their plane was wrecked but the fliers escaped injury.
Llewellyn and Hucheston were actually leading Scott and Guthrie when the mishap occurred. They were trying to find the airfield at Abercorn. Northern Rhodesia, which was obscured by great clouds of smoke from bush fires. The last of their gasoline was used up in the search and the crash resulted.
When Scott and Guthrie arrived at Abercorn an hour later the haze had lifted and they easily identified the airfield.

Scott and Guthrie reached Abercorn at 5:35 p.m. yesterday. Scott appeared dazed and tired and decided to remain there for the night. At 2:45 a.m. they took off on the last lap of 1,250 miles to the South African metropolis.

HALE'S MISFORTUNE
One tragedy of the race and one which was keenly felt by South Africans was the crashing yesterday of the plane of Captain S. S. Hale, inspector of the Johannesburg Air Club, when far in the lead and with victory practically within his grasp.
Hale lost his way near Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and struck an anthill in landing, wrecking his plane and breaking his arm.

QUEEN CHANGES RESIDENCE
Later in the day, Queen Mary, after twenty-five years as mistress of Buckingham Palace, which she entered first as the bride of the late King George, moved into her new home, the smaller Marlborough House.

The Queen, dressed in black, drove from Buckingham Palace with King Edward and the Princess Royal to Marlborough House.

She displayed some emotion, but, with her mother's son at her side, she managed to smile and a slight wave of her gloved hand to a small group gathered on the sidewalk as her automobile turned down the driveway past saluting, blue-coated "Bobbies" and scarlet-jacketed sentries presenting arms.

The King remained with his mother for some time after her personal standard had been hoisted to the flagstaff of Marlborough House—the first such flag to fly there since the death of Queen Alexandra.

SMALLER STAFF
The Queen's household staff will be considerably smaller than before. Her favorite servants, however, moved with her. She appointed the French chef, Amelo, formerly first assistant at Buckingham Palace, to preside in her kitchen and kept her principal chauffeur in her service.

In Marlborough House she will be attended by five ladies—in waiting instead of the nine who formerly served her. She will have two ladies of the bedchamber and three women of the hutchin.

The women of the bedchamber, chosen from among the nobility, are Queen Mary's real companions. They help with her heavy correspondence and occupy rooms near her own apartments.

Queen Mary will continue to have a mistress of the robes, but as she is no longer the consort of the sovereign, the office now becomes her own private appointment. Formerly it was political and required consent of the cabinet.

Other officers in Queen Mary's household who moved with her, included the Marquess of Anglesey, Lord Chamberlain to the Queen, and Sir Harry L. Verney, her treasurer and private secretary.

QUEBEC OFFERS BONDS
Montreal, Oct. 1 (Canadian Press).—Private offerings of a $51,000,000 issue of province of Quebec funds was made today by the investment house of W. C. Pittfield and Company.
Of the proceeds $38,000,000 would be used to take care of maturing bonds and treasury bills, leaving $13,000,000 of new money.
The offering is being made in four groups of differing maturities and coupons, prices to yield from 1 per cent for short-term to 3.08 per cent for fifteen-year issues.

Sovietized Ship At Buenos Aires

Argentine Officials Will Not Allow Passengers to Land From Spanish Vessel

Associated Press
Buenos Aires, Oct. 1.—The passengers and crew of the Spanish liner Cape San Antonio were virtual prisoners of the ocean today. Argentine authorities, suspecting the ship's captain was prisoner of a Sovietized crew, held it under guard of two cruisers outside this harbor after it had been turned away from Santos, Brazil, and Montevideo, Uruguay.

Agents for the owner, the Ibarra Company of Seville, Spain, made no effort to rescue their ship. Offices in all three ports declared it had not been sent on this voyage and disclaimed any responsibility for the passengers, crew or fees.

Argentine officials trailed the Cape San Antonio after it left the coast of Montevideo yesterday where it had been detained.

STEWARDS IN COMMAND
When Uruguayan port authorities boarded the ship outside Montevideo yesterday they found the Cape San Antonio apparently under the command of a steward and a seaman.

Rfr master, Capt. Jose Lanz, did not appear until the port authorities had demanded to speak to him, and then the steward and sailor continued to participate in the conversations, answering questions addressed to him.

NO UNLOADING
The result was the ship was forbidden to disembark passengers or unload mail.
The Uruguayan officials said that when their tug approached the Cape San Antonio, the ship's officers secured the lines while the crew stood idly by. They said they believed Captain Lanz was a prisoner.

Authorities reported the passengers appeared overjoyed at the prospect of leaving the ship on the Uruguayan tug and were mournful, although silent, when the Cape San Antonio's crew barred it.

The officials said, however, the situation aboard ship appeared orderly and the documents seemed to be in order.

Success of Canada's Agreements With U.S. and Japan Proved, Says Hon. J. L. Ilsley

Halifax, Oct. 1.—"After eight months of operation we are able to say the trade agreements with the United States have been successful beyond our most sanguine expectations," Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of National Revenue, told the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Liberal Association here yesterday.

"Canada's export trade is rapidly reaching the billion dollar mark," the minister said. "There is no reason why it should not go above it and then abounding prosperity will come."

"Trade is going ahead by leaps and bounds," said Mr. Ilsley. "Canadian exports to the United States, apart from gold bullion, for the first eight months of 1936 were 28 per cent higher than for the first eight months of 1935."

FARMERS BENEFIT
Particular benefit was being derived by primary products, notably agricultural products and lumber, he said. Some of the largest increases had been in cheese, poultry, horses, cattle, potatoes, turnips, strawberries, asparagus and clover seed, and maple sugar. As a result of the agreements, exports of planks and boards had increased more than 50 per cent.

TOURIST EXEMPTION
"The country has not been flooded with goods brought in by tourists under the $100 exemption," the minister continued.

"Imports under that clause, instead of reaching $50,000,000 as feared by Mr. Bennett, will from present indications not exceed $5,000,000. The exemption privilege is greatly prized by the Canadian public."

TRADE WITH JAPAN
Mr. Ilsley claimed equal success for the trade agreement with Japan, which was entered into last December. "Canadian exports to Japan for the first eight months of 1936 were 39 per cent higher than for the first eight months of 1935," he declared.

UNITED KINGDOM TRADE
Negotiations for increased trade with the United Kingdom were pending, the Revenue Minister continued.

"We realize we can not go on with deficits," the minister said, but he was optimistic. "A reduction of $60,000,000 in the deficit has been budgeted for. Revenues are increasing so rapidly we shall like to collect $70,000,000 more this fiscal year than last."

The government had resisted heavy pressure in declining to buy wheat this year, he continued.

"In declining to buy wheat it has freed itself from the danger of perilous complications and huge losses, and has rid itself of most of the huge carryover of wheat which it found on its doorstep."

Mr. Ilsley characterized the way in which the government had attacked the unemployment problem as "businesslike."

Lord Tweedsmuir's tenure of the post of Lord High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland in 1933 and 1934, as well as his well-known intellectual achievements, were the "honoris causa" on which the university authorities based their request that he accept the degree usually reserved for theologians.

Madrid States Pact Violated

League Told Three Nations Sent Arms to Spanish Rebels

Associated Press
Geneva, Oct. 1.—The Spanish delegation to the League of Nations yesterday evening published documents charging Italy, Germany and Portugal with furnishing arms to the Spanish insurgents in violation of the European non-intervention pact.

The documents contained letters from Madrid to France, Italy, Germany and Portugal denouncing the "hands-off" policy as a blockade against the legitimate Spanish Government.

A note, the document said, had been sent by the Madrid Government to all signatory nations of the non-intervention pact stating that if the insurgents had not received armed aid from Germany and Italy they would have been "crushed at the outset."

Alleged violations of the neutrality pact, the memorandum declared, "created a precedent of extreme gravity in the international domain."

The communication concluded with a demand for abolition of arms embargoes on the Madrid Government.

The charges made specific reference to insurgent receipt of arms, ammunition and men from Germany, and alleged Italian help in twenty-four war planes to insurgents.

FLAY STORK DERBY FARCE

Critics Say New York Play Low in Taste and Humor

Canadian Press
New York, Oct. 1.—"Stork Mad," a new farce by Lynn Root and Frank Pentton, made its appearance at the Ambassador Theatre here last night and was given a frigid reception by Broadway critics.

It is based on the stork derby at Toronto, inaugurated by the will of the late Charles V. Millar, which stipulates the Toronto mother producing the most offspring within ten years after his death is to receive $500,000.

Writing today in the Herald-Tribune, Richard Watts, Jr., says: "The drama, which has been having a reasonably tough time getting started this season, did not exactly toss its loyal devotees a masterpiece at the Ambassador Theatre last night."

"Stork Mad" reaches a new low for the year in taste and humor," The Times says.

"One of these days someone among the Abbotts, Dunninges, Barrys or Hechts will write a play for Percy Kilbride. It has been owed him for a long while. What there is of entertainment about the Fulton's latest occupant is Percy Kilbride, not the affair in which he appears. For the play itself has a single joke, repeated with variations through the evening, and when he isn't around to tell it 'Stork Mad' is only a parlor car salonger."

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Tim Buck, general secretary of the Communist Party of Canada, is at present in Spain, it was learned yesterday when announcement was made that the party's eighth national convention had been postponed.

Registration In Alberta Ends

Citizens Listed For Social Credit Dividend, But Date of First Payment Not Yet Announced

Edmonton, Oct. 1.—The people of Alberta were a step closer today to receiving social credit dividends from the Alberta government; but the date of the first issue was still indefinite.

Throughout the province registration for dividends closed yesterday and will not be reopened until next June. It was a voluntary census of men and women over the age of twenty-one who desired monthly credit dividends, the basis of the Alberta social credit scheme. The Premier has indicated the dividend might be between $5 and $10 monthly for each person registering.

MUCH TABULATION
It will be days before complete figures for registration are known, but Provincial Secretary Manning said yesterday he expected they would exceed 378,249, the number of men and women on the voters' list at the 1935 provincial election.

When each man or woman registered, an agreement was signed with the government. In addition, manufacturers, retailers, farmers and wholesalers were asked to sign agreements, but there was no closed registration period for them.

CREDIT HOUSE
In a general way, this is how the social credit dividend will work: Each month, the dividend will be placed to the credit of the man or woman in a government credit house, which will act as a sort of bank. It may be used to pay grocery bills, the amounts being debited from the original account and credited to the grocer's. This makes it circulate.

Alongside this credit issue will go two other features. A system of rotating the credit through a turnover tax so as to prevent inflation will be one. The other will be rigid price control through a government-appointed board.

FOR RELIEF WORK
Fifty Alberta municipalities have applied for Prosperity Certificate money to finance relief work. It was announced here yesterday by Works Minister Fallow.

Beyond the general statement made several days ago that more scrip would be issued, no decision had been made on the new applications. The average application was $5,000, but they ran as high as $50,000.

There is no similarity between Social Credit dividends and prosperity certificates. The government issued $236,000 in certificates, or scrip starting August 5 with the object of putting men to work on roads and increasing general purchasing power.

New York, Oct. 1.—The New York Times, in an editorial titled "A Reasonable Choice," today announced its support of President Roosevelt for re-election.

The Times is an independent Democratic newspaper, and the editorial said, a "conservative newspaper in its own sphere."

Reasons for the paper's choice are its belief that a second Roosevelt administration would be more conservative, that the re-election of the President "will provide insurance against radicalism and that the narrow nationalism for which the Republican Party stands today is in itself a policy, which, if put into force, would carry us rapidly in the direction both of 'regimentation' and 'radicalism'."

Tokepa, Kas. Oct. 1. (Associated Press).—Governor Alf. M. Lindon disclaimed today support of any element "endeavoring to bring racial prejudice and religious bigotry into American life."

In a formal statement the Republican nominee for the United States presidency said:

"My attention has recently been directed to the activities of a number of agencies which, for selfish purposes or political reasons, are endeavoring to exploit prejudice between groups of American citizens."

"I have no use for any elements who are endeavoring to bring racial prejudices and religious bigotries into American life, and state frankly that I disclaim the support of any such organization of groups."

Mr. King Was Right

AT GENEVA ON TUESDAY, PREMIER King suggested to the League of Nations Assembly that the nations—those holding membership in the League and those without it—ought to get together round the conference table and try to discover some formula that really would insure international amity, because until they did "Europe and the League could not possibly begin to perform their tasks." An article in The Evening News of London, England, gives the Prime Minister of Canada all the support he requires for his contention.

The Evening News, starting out with the plain statement that Europe is having a race in man power, that France, Germany, Russia, Roumania, and Greece are all taking a leading part in it, goes on to say:

Scarcely has the ink dried on a new decree by one nation before another makes known a decision which goes further.

On August 12 Russia decided to lower the military age from twenty-one to nineteen. In the next few years this greatly increases Russia's armies.

On August 14 Germany introduced a two-year period of service and so doubled her army strength.

Meanwhile Roumania has called up youths between eighteen and twenty-one for compulsory labor service, and Greece means to have an army "equal to the best in Europe." Russia's service period is two years and two and a half years—the latter in special fighting forces, chiefly mechanized and motorized units.

The doubling of Germany's compulsory military service period from one to two years enables her, this year, to have all those who, in the ordinary way, would have been discharged, together with the new conscript levy. Poland, at the beginning of this year, increased the period of compulsory military service from eighteen months to two years—actually twenty-three months.

Czechoslovakia has so far increased the period of service in her special fighting forces to two years, but the newly appointed Supreme Council of Defence is now considering making the general period of compulsory service two years.

Other nations are, of course, watching the French, German and Russian decrees and proposals closely. They may make new decisions accordingly.

Service periods in these other countries are: Italy: Various periods, but the average is two years.

Roumania: Two years.

Yugoslavia: Two years and three months.

Switzerland: Eighteen months.

Belgium: Period increased to two years.

All the Baltic states have a service period of two years.

Scandinavian countries are now reorganizing their armies.

Recently it was announced, by the way, by the French Cabinet that a huge new arm programme to cost $670,000,000 during the next four years is to be launched immediately. This is in addition to the $800,000,000 France already spends on armaments.

Mr. Mackenzie King is being told by the press hostile to his government that his address before the League of Nations Assembly on Tuesday was of a purely academic character. The summary of war-like activity in Europe as presented to the British public the other day by the London daily from which we have quoted suggests that the Prime Minister of Canada gave the League some good advice—and, for that matter, the world in general.

Mechanics Come First

THERE APPEARED RECENTLY IN THE Illustrated London News a preliminary sketch of two new battleships which are about to be added to the German navy. These, if the London publication is correct, will be the most up-to-date fighting ships in the world. They will embody all the lessons taught by the World War.

Thus, we are shown monster ships 700 feet long and approximately 98 feet wide, to be driven by 150,000 horsepower engines which will give them a speed of at least thirty knots. They will carry twelve-inch armor plate amidships, a five-inch arched deck for protection against aircraft, a two-inch splinter deck below that, and they will have torpedo "bulges" on both sides. Their guns will be nine 11-inch rifles with an effective range of 30,000 yards. In addition, they will carry several six-inch guns, an anti-aircraft battery, and hangars providing space for four airplanes.

Altogether, the craft will be about the most formidable warships ever built, fast enough to get away from any other battleships afloat, and sturdy enough to stand up and trade punches in case they are cornered. And the melancholy thought which arises from contemplating them is just this: The purely mechanical lessons of the Great War have been learned to perfection. The defects which sent ships to the bottom at Jutland and elsewhere will never be duplicated; the object lessons which the big rifles and the torpedoes taught have been taken to heart.

But it is only in fields such as this that the war seems to have taught us anything. In the larger field, the field of human relationship, it seems to have taught us nothing at all.

The war was the most expensive and painful teaching in all history about the folly of imperialism, jealous nationalism, and the rule of force in human affairs. One would think that even a race of ten-year-olds could have seen, after the war, that the nations of the world must find some way of getting along in peace, no matter what the price.

The Needy Want Clothing.

ALTHOUGH VICTORIA HAS been basking in the warm, mellow sunshine of a perfect "Indian summer," the imminence of winter is brought to mind by the appeal of the City Relief Officer on behalf of the needy of the city.

Mr. Snowden reminds us that winter is just around the corner, a season which to many less fortunate citizens is one that spells misery and discomfort unless some good Samaritans come to their aid with warm clothing, blankets, heaters and fuel.

While the material improvement in economic conditions has considerably lowered the number of unemployed, there are still many who, through illness or lack of opportunity, are jobless and dependent upon city relief, and it is to help eke out their meagre pittance that the appeal is made.

The greatest need is for men's underwear, and for shoes and clothing for children to ensure the little ones being warmly clad and decently shod for school. Donations sent to the City Relief Welfare Department will be carefully distributed where the need is greatest. Look into your wardrobes and see what cast-off clothing you can spare.

Women In Public Affairs

WORD COMES FROM LONDON to the effect that pioneers of the militant suffrage campaign of twenty-five years ago are arranging a dinner to commemorate the late Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other "martyrs to the cause."

The suffragettes, as they were known, waged a stormy battle for the franchise and today the survivors of that campaign are enjoying the fruits of their victory in the shape of the growing recognition in Great Britain of woman's ability to take her place beside men in the various spheres of government.

On the other hand, in Canada, where the fight for feminine suffrage was a comparatively passive one, free from the destructive and obstructive tactics and hunger strikes which marked the Old Country campaign, the results have been disappointing to its protagonists. Despite the fact that women here have enjoyed the vote for many years, the Federal House today boasts only two members of the gentler sex, while their representation in the provincial Legislatures is so small as to be almost negligible.

Whether this state of affairs is attributable to the apathy of the woman voter in Canada or not, it is to be regretted that so few have been given the opportunity to make their contribution to government, which, after all, is merely a larger manifestation of "house-keeping."

School For Motorists

WHITE BEAR LAKE, MINN., IS not troubled with an excess of automobile traffic, but its school officials are not taking any chances. They have inaugurated a compulsory course in automobile operation in the high school.

Designed to make youths careful and competent drivers, the course is unique in high schools. But we hope not for long.

It is, it appears, an approach to the driving problem that might be launched profitably throughout the country. Analysis of automobile fatalities reveals a great number attributable to youths of high school age or slightly older. Moreover, this training in time ought to be reflected through the whole motoring population. It is something other than high schools might consider seriously.

The Curse of Tariff Barriers

BEFORE THE LEAGUE OF Nations Assembly at Geneva on Tuesday, Prime Minister Mackenzie King informed the delegates that Canada is in sympathy with every effort to move barriers from international trade, and has demonstrated her readiness to negotiate for tariff reductions with any country ready to take similar action.

The Prime Minister knows only too well that this country lost, between 1930 and 1933, more than one and a half billion dollars' worth of business. It would not be fair, of course, to attribute all this very serious economic setback to the Dominion to the tariff-tinkering of the Bennett government, but the record shows that a large part of the loss of trade was due to the reversion of fiscal policies—based on the idea that Canada could do all the selling and little of the buying. There is no such thing, of course, as a one-way trade. That, however, still seems to be the belief of the ardent economic nationalists.

Notes

Some day the neighbors may have Hitler arrested for making an unnecessary noise.

Often a political situation seems absolutely clear until a radio commentator gets hold of the threads.

Spain is going to be a happy land for persons who like to search the wreckage for gruesome souvenirs.

Joseph Stalin announces that we are on the very eve of momentous events. Maybe the great Stalin, too, has taken to pyramid measuring.

Before entering a freckle contest, young folks were required to wash their faces. We are interested in learning which of the two entrants won.

The Alberta salesman who found themselves in trouble for selling wooden caricatures of Premier Aberhart would probably have less difficulty passing wooden dollars.

Column Three

Too old at forty, says Aberhart, reviving old cry, but grandmothers dance Highland Fling and swim at seventy-two, and middle-aged men set world speed record. Shirley at peak at six and John D. at ninety-seven, still going strong.
By F. J. MERRIMAN

SOCIAL CREDIT Premier William Aberhart, beside giving the world a strikingly new and appealing financial doctrine, has raised an old, old issue. He has revived the burning topic of "when is a man old?" You have undoubtedly noticed that in passing judgment on this vital point the age of the spokesman is a tremendous factor.

THE EVENING

To the youth of twenty, forty or even thirty represents an age even past maturity. When the signs of senile decay are plainly evident. Old men of forty, some of these youths believe, are rapidly approaching even if they haven't reached the eve of life.

Men of forty—young men of forty, as they consider themselves in spite of the opinions of the youth of twenty—generally feel, I believe, that they are at their mental and physical peak, and are inclined to believe the world should be theirs for the next twenty years. They might concede that it is possible they will begin to slip at the age of sixty.

Then they learn to their surprise that some mentally virile and physically active man like Dean Quainton only lacks a year of being seventy and change their views a little.

But to get back to how Premier Aberhart brought the subject into the spotlight. The Social Credit apostle says the hopeful sign today is the open-minded, aggressive attitude of young people who are not affected as older people are by bias and prejudice. Incidentally, Mr. Aberhart was addressing a junior board of trade, so we must discount something for diplomacy.

EXCEPT ME

"I don't care for the baldheads and greybeards. They are in the grave, anyway," says the fifty-eight-year-old premier, who is bald except for the few straggling grey locks around the lower part of his head. It must be presumed the premier added under his breath, "of course, I am the outstanding exception."

"TOO OLD AT FORTY"

Thirty years ago there used to be a cry, "Too Old at Forty." It was inspired, if I remember correctly, by similar conditions as those that are being faced today, only then it was men who were born in the Victorian era who faced the fear of being driven to the industrial backwoods by the speeding-up process of a rapidly developing machine age.

The old cry seems to have been challenged and refuted. We have heard life begins at forty. Most of the statesmen who appear in the world news have passed the half century mark, and there are those who claim now that intellectual workers do their best work after they are fifty.

Picking the hardest of all branches of athletics as a physical example, we have wrestlers of fifty still figuring in world championship bouts. In the field of speed, we have Sir Malcolm Campbell setting world records long after he has passed the half century mark.

NEARLY EIGHTY—WANTS TO FIGHT

As further consolation, if you are on the border line and wonder if this too-old-at-forty cry carries any significance or is just an out-dated slogan, there is the example of Ben Tillett, dockers' union leader in England, and a figure in public life for half a century.

Tillett is seventy-eight. He believes Spain is the battleground of the workers against Fascism. Spanish workers, he is convinced, are battling the way to Fascism with their fists and blood, not only for the sake of Spain, but for the sake of the world.

"I know Spain and love Spain. I saw the strides it was making under a Labor government. I will raise a corps of English workers to fight in Spain. Certainly I will carry arms. I am ready to kill or be killed if necessary for the cause," says this near octogenarian.

SWIMMING GRANDMOTHERS

To cite a few other examples, there are the swimming grandmothers we read about in the news. There is an Englishwoman who learned to swim after she was sixty years of age. And an advertisement tells of an old Scotch lady of seventy who dances the Highland Fling.

Since writing this column, there is the case of a woman who learned to swim at seventy-two and now takes a daily dip.

But outshining them all is the footballing great-grandmother of Plymouth. Some of the Canadians who went to England during the war will remember that with most of the soccer players in army uniform, the ladies decided to step into the game. I saw one game. The ladies scored and had a lot of fun. At a novelty, it was all right, but as soccer it wasn't anything. But evidently the ladies persisted and improved at this man's sport as they did in tackling men's jobs during the war—and, as many men complain, in holding on to them after the war—and ladies' soccer is now an established feature.

SHE PLAYS SOCCER AT SIXTY-EIGHT

The footballing grandmother referred to stepped into a game to give some advertising value to a carnival in her home town. She is sixty-eight. She found she liked playing football, and now she won't quit. She has had offers to play for other teams, and now managers are fighting over her like they do over a great baseball find. Poison pen letters writers have called her "a silly old fool." One has told her she should be in the madhouse.

Says the old lady: "I like the game. Every chance I get I am going to play it."

These are just a few cases, but if you happen to be interested enough, go over the newspaper columns and see how many men who are figuring in things that matter are over the forty mark.

You may argue that this is all rather vague and hasn't proved yet which age should be accepted as what must be regarded as the prime. Undoubtedly, you will be correct. As a matter of fact, I think it is possible to take any age from six to ninety and prove it is the prime. We might take Shirley Temple at six and, well, I can't think of anyone offhand, but I expect there are probably some greybeards of ninety who have the wisdom of Solomon and a mind undimmed by the passage of time. Come to think of it, there is John D. Rockefeller. Ninety-seven years of age and still, I understand, holding his head above the financial water despite the late depression and other jars to a nervous system a man must have had in all those years.

NOT HOPELESS

Still you did the same bad things when you were young, and look how well you turned out.

AROUND AND AROUND

A man doesn't live seventy years. He lives about forty and then just repeats.

STRANGE CREATURE

A woman hates to appear in public if she hasn't anything to wear, unless it is a bathing suit.

Letters to The Editor

FULFILLED BEFORE OUR EYES

To the Editor:—When a preacher or anyone else recites that part of the scriptures where it says that the earth is going to be burned up, it is necessary that the context be also read. If this is not done a very foolish meaning is put into the words.

This passage is contained in the II Peter III and the same verse which states that the earth is to be burned up, also states that the heavens will be burned up. This needs some study before we can arrive at a sensible and reasonable conclusion.

We know from other passages of Scripture that the physical earth will not be burned up. Ecclesiastes I 4: "One generation passeth away and another generation cometh; but the earth abideth for ever." It states in II Peter III 6, "Whereby the world that then was, being overthrown with water, perished." We know that the physical world did not perish for it is still here.

It states in Isaiah IX 1: "Heaven is my throne and earth is my footstool." It is quite clear that if the heavens and earth burned up, Jehovah would neither have throne nor footstool. Therefore, the only reasonable conclusion we can come to is that this burning up has reference to the ruling systems of the world which is to be burned up and we see this prophecy being fulfilled right before our eyes.

J. W. GREEN.

WORKADAY ECONOMICS—ACCESSIBLE MONEY

To the Editor:—Everywhere on earth, from pole to pole, the earliest money of mankind was "accessible." It was an ordinary commodity. The money of Troy, 3,000 years ago, was oxen. The money of the American Indian was beaver furs and beads. To this very day, the native money of Uganda is goats.

It is not the external form of money, however, that is important, but the principle it embodies. The principles which underlie the crude but honest money of antiquity, were flatly at variance with the principles upon which our modern money is based.

1. Economic security—the "right" to a job and a minimum wage—was at all times assured to every willing worker by primitive money. It was always "accessible" to the citizens: always obtainable (as a right, not as a charity) in return for work of a given duration or efficiency. That money not rise, value soon the excessive good would be attracted to better-paid jobs, and monetary equilibrium would be restored.

2. Serious "inflation" was impossible. Any tendency towards it would be checked automatically. A worker's standard always turned to bread-breeding. Every goat that he breeds "is" money. If too many Ugandans do this, the value of money will fall, via the price of other things will rise. So will profits and wages. But the wages of goat-breeders obviously could not rise. Value soon the excessive good would be attracted to better-paid jobs, and monetary equilibrium would be restored.

3. Eternal debt, either public or private, is out of the question. Debts can at all times be paid off by industry, by a fixed quantum of work. 4. The non-spender or hoarder, is merely a harmless eccentric. He can hoard to his heart's content, and not injure anyone. No one in his senses, of course, would suggest a return to the cumbersome currencies of our ancestors. But, surely, it should not be impossible to re-embody in a convenient twentieth century money the principles of social justice and national equity that were enshrined in those primitive monies of mankind. Might not those well be the four points of a new financial Magna Carta?

Legal Questions

Question: If an insurance agent, in his contract of employment, agreed to "act constantly for the best interests of the company," would the company be justified in dismissing him if he also acted for another company in the same sphere of business?

Answer: By so acting he would be guilty of a breach of contract, and such breach would justify his dismissal.

Parallel Thoughts

The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to preserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished.—II Peter II 9.

Temptation in the line of duty God has provided for; but for temptation sought and coveted, God has no provision.—G. E. REE.

Baby Derby Surprise Entry

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Ruling that unwed mothers and those separated from their husbands are eligible to compete in Toronto's famous $500,000 baby derby added zest to the race, clearing the status of Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke, and making her one of the leading contenders for the fortune left by Charles Vance Millar, Toronto sportsman. Mrs. Clarke is declared to be the mother of ten children, born since 1926, all said to be properly registered. Five of them are reported to have been born since she was separated from her husband in 1931. Mrs. Clarke is shown here with one of her sons as they were snapped while walking on a Toronto street.

Journey Ends In Lovers' Meeting

Bride-elect of V.I. Man Arrives After World Tour

When the old St. Princess Maquina casts off from the Belleville street docks this evening she will be playing the final part in a romantic journey which has circled the globe and in which many ships, great and small, have had their part. The journey started in New Zealand and will end at the Banfield cable station, Miss E. L. Nicholls of Auckland, New Zealand, and Mr. Russell Rockley of Banfield will be married in Vancouver in a few days' time. They have not seen each other for two years.

Miss Nicholls left New Zealand with her father, Mr. George M. Nicholls, director of Cramp, Nicholls Limited, large Auckland wool exporting company, in April.

The St. Mariposa took them to Australia, and from there another vessel carried them by way of Ceylon and Suez to Great Britain. They stayed three months in the British Isles and during that time they toured every part of England, Wales, Ireland and Scotland. They also visited the Belgian and French battlefields.

The father and daughter sailed from Southampton on the R.M.S. Queen Mary at the beginning of September and made a leisurely trip through the eastern United States and across Canada. They arrived at the Dominion Hotel here yesterday morning.

For both of them the voyage was a visit of exploration to new countries. Neither had been in England, Europe or Canada before.

Miss Nicholls and her father are impressed with the country which is to be her new home, and find Vancouver when he was attacked to the Auckland cable station. They will make their home at Banfield.

Mr. Nicholls will sail for home from here on the R.M.S. Niagara on October 7.

Of much interest to the bride's many friends in Victoria was the wedding in Vancouver recently of Miss Frances Mary Hood, who became the bride of Mr. William A. Grant at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hood, 1640 Alma Road. Rev. W. A. Morrison officiated. Miss Hood was attended by her sister, Miss Anne Hood, while Mr. Grant, who is the son of Mrs. A. Grant, 4588 West Fourth, Vancouver, and late Alexander Grant, was supported by Mr. Murray Grant.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her white satin gown featured a yoke of lace outlined with pearls, while her veil of silk embroidered net was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. Ophelia roses, swansons and white heather formed her bouquet.

Yellow point d'esprit over taffeta fashion—the frock worn by the bride—was the—flowers in her hair and in her bouquet harmonized in tone.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Everett H. Smith, and during the signing of the register, Miss Ellen Dudgeon sang. Later in the evening, Mr. Everett H. Smith also gave a vocal selection.

At the reception, Mrs. A. S. Denny of Victoria, and Mrs. George W. Beveridge presided at the urns. Mr. and Mrs. Grant left for a motor tour of Vancouver Island, the bride traveling in rusted knitted ensemble with brown accessories. On their return they will reside at 5541 Larch Street.

St. Saviour's Girls' W.A.—The first meeting of the winter season of the St. Saviour's Girls' Branch of the W.A. was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. K. L. Roach, 7 Alderman Avenue, with twenty-two members present and also two guests, Mrs. Whitehead and Miss Phyllis Davis. The evening took the form of a miscellaneous shower for one of the members, Miss Bessie Wood, whose marriage will take place shortly. A competition was held, the prize being won by Miss Isabel Eastick, and refreshments were served.

Portia Society Hear Miss Cann

The growing importance of women's debating societies was the subject of an interesting and instructive address given by Miss Jeanette Cann at a well-attended meeting of the Portia Society of the Victoria High School yesterday.

The benefits to be derived from debates such as Portia, and similar societies, held, was stressed by Miss Cann, who showed how an exchange of ideas was of mutual help to the members. Women these days enjoy more leisure than they used to do, and could derive both profit and entertainment from the discussions on a variety of subjects and an exchange of views at debating society meetings.

A committee consisting of Almee Heddie, Brenda Smith and Lavonne Purves was detailed to look after the floral decorations of the morning assemblies.

Next week speeches will be given by Nancy Cameron, Almee Heddie and Lavonne Purves.

By examining finger nail clippings, two physicians found that there is a difference between normal people and arthritis sufferers in the organic sulphur content of the finger nails.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH HOWARD has been engaged to STEPHEN FOWLER for four years. She wants to be married and keep her job in the business office but Steve will not hear of this.

Judith meets Steve for lunch and they go over the familiar arguments. Judith points out that her friends, VIRGINIA and BOB BENT, are happily married, though both have jobs. Steve refuses to be convinced. Finally Judith threatens to break the engagement.

Steve, realizing she is in earnest, asks to come to her apartment that evening to talk the matter over. He comes and a short time later Bob and Virginia arrive with their friend, TOBY LYNCH. Steve and Toby have an argument and the evening is awkward for everyone. Steve remains after the others have gone. He begs Judith not to break the engagement but she remains firm.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

It was the Bent's habit to drop by for Judith on their way to work. But next morning Virginia stopped at Judith's apartment without her husband.

"Bob left early," Virginia explained. "He had some work he wanted to finish before the day's rush."

Judith knew better, but she said nothing. Virginia wanted to know the outcome of last night's encounter with Steve and she didn't care to be hampered by Bob in her questioning.

"Sit down," Judith invited. "You've time to have a cup of coffee with me."

"Thank you, dear, and I'll take up a piece of toast, too. I rushed so to get Bob away that I'm afraid I neglected my own calories." She took the proffered cup, searching Judith's eyes. "Well, what happened?"

The other smiled. "Nothing at all, Virginia. He left right after you did—and I didn't change my mind."

"Good!" exclaimed Virginia. She looked a mock sigh. "I was scared to death you'd give him another chance. I was trying to stay here longer than he did, but finally I saw that he'd caught on to my scheme."

Young Mrs. Bent stirred her coffee in silence for a moment. Then, looking up at Judith, she said, "Did Steve tell you what he did to Toby Lynch last night?"

Judith nodded. "Terrible, wasn't it?"

"Well... Bob seemed to think that Toby had it coming. But you know how Toby is—always opening his mouth before he thinks if you ask me, I think it was stupid of Steve."

Judith Howard's gaze met her friend's quizzically. "Stupid?" Perhaps you're right, Virginia. But when a gal has had her good name defended, it's hard for her to think of it as stupid."

"That," said Virginia in her most cynical fashion, "is a lot of banana oil, and you know it. No girl nowadays gets all excited about a man because he lets his arms fly around."

"Don't be so sure," Judith laughed. "Come on, we'll have to rush now to make the office on time!"

Virginia was well pleased with the way Judith was taking the finish of their affair. "Stupid?" Perhaps your patient's condition is good," Virginia told herself. "In a month or so she'll be as fit as a fiddle and ready for love—a new one."

But at the office Virginia's desk wasn't near Judith's. Busy with her own work, she didn't see how many times Judith Howard stopped typing and stared into space. She didn't notice how many times Judith stopped her busy fingers to make erasures, or to snatch out the sheets and carbon and begin anew.

Steve telephoned just before noon and asked her to lunch. "I—I can't do it," Judith faltered. "I've some extra work to do."

"Then I'll call you tonight," Steve told her.

"It won't do any good, Steve."

"I'm willing to take the chance."

She was glad when Virginia suggested that they telephone Bob and plan to stay downtown for dinner. It would help her to forget Steve.

"Bob might like to bring along Jerry Macklin. He's in Bob's office, and you'd like him, Judith."

Judith shook her head. "I'd rather he wouldn't, Virginia. I don't quite feel up to meeting anyone new."

"Just as you say, darling. But I want you to know I'm not going to let you stay in mourning indefinitely."

The trio met in a little Italian restaurant which was a favorite of Bob's. There they struggled with spaghetti in fascinating and unbroken strands, while the Bents did their best to keep Judith's spirits up.

Aided by the delicious food and the carefree atmosphere of the place, they succeeded fairly well.

"How about a movie?" Bob suggested.

"You and Virginia go," Judith said. "I'm a little tired. And after all this food I'm afraid I'd go to sleep in the theatre."

"Sure you'll be all right?" Virginia wanted to know when Bob left the booth to pay the check.

Judith smiled. "Of course!"

She thought the street car was filled. Judith felt somehow lonely without Bob and Virginia. Or was it the Bents she missed? Wasn't it Steve Fowler for whom she was lonely? Steve who had somehow been with her always, and now had been sent away? Judith wondered, tried to analyze her own strange feelings. He had said he would telephone tonight, and as Judith remembered this she realized that if Steve failed to keep his promise she would be disappointed. She would wonder why he hadn't kept it. Women are such fools!

She thought bitterly, and tried to divert her mind by watching the people in the car. But down at the far end her eyes encountered a young couple oblivious to the world—a young couple so patently in love that for each of them nothing, no one, existed except the other. I suppose Steve and I must have looked like that, she thought. "I suppose that some time or other some disillusioned girl must have watched us just as I am watching these two now."

She was glad when the car reached the theatre. She thought of the prayer to the priestly of her hands. Once there she bathed her face and hands, then tried to read. But although she followed the words, they meant nothing, meant no more than if the pages had been blank.

Suddenly the telephone rang, sending Judith's heart into her throat. Without thinking, without debate, she took up the instrument and answered. It was Steve.

"I've been trying to reach you for the last hour," he said.

"I had dinner downtown with Bob and Virginia."

"Still writing your rules of conduct, are they?" asked Steve bitterly. Judith caught her breath. "It won't do any good to be angry, Steve. Why can't you make it easy for me? I—"

"Make it easy for you to throw me down? Not on your life! Judith, I'm coming over. I'm going to have this out with you if it takes all night."

"But, Steve, I've told you how I feel. There's simply no use—"

With the realization that he was no longer on the wire, Judith's voice trailed into silence. Slowly she replaced the instrument in its cradle. Steve Fowler was coming to console her again, as he had so often convinced her in the past. And she mustn't let him. She mustn't!

Quickly she got up from the telephone chair, snatched her hat and was racing hurriedly along the sidewalk. She wished now that she'd accepted the Bent's invitation to the movie. But she could go alone to the little neighborhood theatre near the apartment. That would be her haven of refuge. Perhaps when Steve found no answer to his ring he would understand at last that she had made her decision for the last time.

In the pleasant half-light of the neighborhood movie house she found herself confronting the excitement of an African hunting trip—a feature deemed to the exploits of an adventurer who trapped wild animals for zoos. She was relieved that the plot, less reels were concerned with the problems of men and women in a realistic world. But this feature of the program was too soon finished, and she did not fare so well with the next picture on the double bill. It had to do with young love, with a boy who looked oddly like Steve, and with a girl who might have been Judith Howard. Before it had been ten minutes on the screen, Judith fled.

She felt sure that by now Steve would have tried the apartment and taken his leave. Fred now, both with natural fatigue and the strain of nervousness, she hurried on in the darkness. But half a block from the apartment building she stopped suddenly. Steve stood in the entrance way, impatiently smoking a cigar. Obviously he had been waiting there for some time, and just as obviously he intended to wait longer.

Angered, Judith turned and retraced her steps, keeping to the outside of the walk so that Steve might not glimpse her. Her mind, too filled with wariness, let her step down heedless from the curb. She heard the scream of brakes, the sound of tires clutching crazily. Twin rays from headlights blinded her momentarily—and then she saw a huge black roadster smash headlong into a fire hydrant not twenty feet from where she stood.

OAK BAY BOY GIVEN MEDAL

Stuart Burnell Receives Governor-General's Prize at School Ceremonies

The Governor-General's bronze medal for the highest standing in the high school entrance examination in Greater Victoria was presented to Stuart Burnell yesterday afternoon at Monterey School.

Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy minister of education, made the presentation before pupils of the Oak Bay schools and their parents and representatives of the school board and municipal council.

Oak Bay schools had a good record, he said. Of the five times the medal has been awarded, it had gone to Oak Bay three times. A pupil at the Willows School had won it the year before.

It was a great honor to possess a medal presented by Lady Tweedsmuir, he said, because the Governor-General was high in the field of letters.

Trustee S. J. Drake advised the pupils of the Willows School to see that the medal went next year. Captain F. G. Dexter, principal of the Oak Bay schools, referred to the excellent record of Stuart Burnell, on the playing-field as well as in the classroom. He was a boy of good disposition and unassuming character, Captain Dexter said.

In the absence of Rev. R. E. Taylor, Councillor William Ellis conveyed the good wishes of the council to the students and teachers, and remarked on the changes in education since the time when he went to school.

Canon A. E. del. Nunn hoped the pupils would carry with them the high ideals taught in the public schools and thus contribute to the uplifting of the world.

Through the generosity of James A. Wattie, who was unable to be present at the ceremonies, prizes were awarded to the leading students in each of the divisions of the two Oak Bay schools. Dr. Willis presented the prizes.

Domestic science prizes donated by Miss Blankenbach were also presented. Prizes donated by Miss Cathart, a former member of the teaching staff in Monterey School, were reserved until standings could be ascertained.

Capt. Dexter stated two book prizes would be given at the end of this year to the students with the highest marks in Canadian history, through the generosity of the Sir Matthew Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E. Afternoon tea was served in the old high school building under the direction of the domestic science department at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

The League of Nations has capitulated and Turkey once more is fortifying the narrow strait of the Dardanelles, which links the Aegean and Black Seas. In 1915 the Allies tried unsuccessfully to capture this stronghold, and only after the World War could they strip the forts of their guns.

Far back in history this strait, forty-two miles long and from one to five miles wide, was the trade bottleneck between Europe and Asia. It was known as the Hellespont, where Helle, mythical princess of Thebes, was drowned as she fled with her brother on the winged ram of the golden fleece. From the castles of Dardanus, at the southwest entrance, it got its name of Dardanelles. From 1453 to 1918 the strait was completely under Turkish control. Now, following Germany's example Turkey more politely gets permission to re-fortify it.

A map of this strategic area is shown on a stamp issued by Turkey in 1918.

Chemainus, Oct. 1.—St. Michael's and All Angels Church observed St. Michael's day on Tuesday by celebration of Holy Communion in the morning, full evening service at 7.30 p.m., followed by the annual harvest social. Ten tables of court whist were in play at the social, the prize winners being Mrs. Thom and William Knight. H. Robinson and J. C. Adam gave vocal solos. Mrs. Henry Knight, president of the Women's Auxiliary, presented the vicar's wife, Mrs. Hipp, with a bouquet of gladioli. Mrs. Walter Porter conveyed refreshments, and the Women's Auxiliary and church committee assisted in serving.

GYROS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Governor W. C. Hudson Officially; Biggest Attendance in Club's History

At the largest gathering ever held by the organization, the Victoria Gyro Club's 1936-37 officers were installed in the Empress Hotel last night, with William C. Hudson, recently-elected governor of District No. 4, acting as installing officer. Over 200 Gyros and their friends were in attendance.

The officers installed were: Angus McIntyre, president; Everett Taylor, vice-president; Harold L. Butcher, secretary-treasurer, and R. L. Chaloner, W. W. McGregor, Neil Grant, Harry Savage and Ed. Revercombe, directors. Mr. McIntyre succeeds Waldo Skilling.

The ceremony was attended by a large delegation from the Nanaimo Gyro Club and by Russ Fraser, representing the Vancouver Gyros.

A good omen for the club's success during the coming year was seen by the district governor in the large attendance. He stressed his pleasure at the fact that his first official duty in his new office should be the installation of the officers of his home club.

GYRO AND FRIENDSHIP. Mr. Hudson spoke of the significance of Gyro in the matter of the forming and maintaining of friendships. "Here we have two separate entities," he said, "Gyro on the one hand and friendship on the other, but they are really one. Gyro has no corner on friendship, but the ideal of service and friendship is something that the officers should keep always before them."

True friendship was a practical and active quality, he added, and in spite of the statement of the international president at a recent club luncheon that the club was not a service club, friendship in the true spirit of Gyro was not to be obtained without service.

In this field of help for others the Victoria club had built for itself a reputation second to none. Mr. Hudson urged the members to keep active in this direction, and wished them every success during the coming year.

Mr. Hudson paid tribute to the retiring board of directors, and made special mention of the work of the new president, Past-president Skilling and Mr. Butcher.

PIN PRESENTED. The retiring president in a brief address thanked the club members for their co-operation with him during the past year. The official past-president's pin was presented to Mr. Skilling by Alderman Archie Willis, a charter member and past-president of the club.

The new president pledged himself to continue in the line of duty shown by his predecessors, and offered his thanks to the club for the honor conferred on him.

Among those attending the meeting were William Laney, president of the Kiwanis Club; Frank Doherty, president of the Rotary Club; Cecil U. Lockhart, president of the Kinsmen's Club; and George Edwards, treasurer of the Revelers.

Club members were entertained during dinner by the music of Charlie Hunt's four-piece Gyro orchestra, which played also for the dance which closed the evening, and by numbers by Miss Doreen Wilson, Vernon Miller and Hugh Williamson.

Duncan Plans For Gymnasium

Duncan, Oct. 1.—A meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements for the proposed new school gymnasium was held at the City Hall, Tuesday evening, H. E. Blanchard being in the chair.

It was the unanimous feeling that a start should be made on the building, even if on a limited scale, to be extended later on. The chairman will appoint sub-committees to look into the cost of a skeleton building.

Mrs. E. F. Duncan lent her house for a meeting of chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire on Tuesday, when Mrs. F. Stead, provincial president, gave a comprehensive report of the national annual meeting held in Winnipeg. Members of the Cowichan and Dogwoods Chapters were hostesses, and there was an attendance of about sixty in all from Cowichan, Dogwoods, G. G. Palmer Chapters, Duncan, and the Arbutus Chapter from Chemainus. Mrs. Stead was introduced by Mrs. N. E. Suddaby, regent of the Cowichan Chapter, and presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations, by Marie Irvine, on behalf of the Dogwoods Chapter. Mrs. R. Lendrum, regent of the Dogwoods, moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Stead and Mrs. G. W. Bisset, on behalf of the Cowichan and Dogwoods Chapters.

The evangelism and social service committee's report dealt also with the use of alcohol, recommending total abstinence and that "our people be urged to support those legislative enactments which will most effectively curtail the operations of the liquor traffic and reduce to a minimum its evils, ever keeping in mind the ultimate objective of the church—a nation and a world free from the baneful drink."

In this connection a section of the report called attention to motion picture producers to the "remarkable number of commendable films that are very seriously marred by needless and extraneous drinking scenes."

Church Approves Social Measures

United General Council Accepts Principles of "Voluntary Parenthood"

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The General Council of the United Church of Canada at its session yesterday received a sessional committee report approving the principles of "voluntary parenthood" and voluntary sterilization of the mentally unfit.

The report was returned by the sessional committee on evangelism and social service after slight amendments had been made to statement of the special committee established at the 1934 general council on birth control and sterilization.

The sessional committee changed the expression "birth control" to "voluntary parenthood," believing the new term described better the condition the church wished to see in effect. It approved the commission's recommendations favoring establishment of "voluntary parenthood" clinics under public control and supervision according to standards and regulations prescribed by the provincial department of public health, these regulations to be drawn up in the light of experimental work already done in Canada and of more permanent enterprises conducted in other countries.

LIQUOR QUESTION

The evangelism and social service committee's report dealt also with the use of alcohol, recommending total abstinence and that "our people be urged to support those legislative enactments which will most effectively curtail the operations of the liquor traffic and reduce to a minimum its evils, ever keeping in mind the ultimate objective of the church—a nation and a world free from the baneful drink."

In this connection a section of the report called attention to motion picture producers to the "remarkable number of commendable films that are very seriously marred by needless and extraneous drinking scenes."

Choir Elects New Officers

The members of the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were entertained on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Longfield, 658 Battery Street.

The preliminary part of the evening took the form of a business meeting, when matters pertaining to the welfare of the choir were brought up and followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year as follows: Honorary president, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell; president, Miss LaBelle Crawford; vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Hawes; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. James Brown; music committee, Mrs. F. W. Hawes, Mrs. W. H. Thornborrow, Mr. A. W. Trevelick; refreshment committee, Mrs. F. J. Mitchell, Mrs. Griffin, Miss Agnes Hood, Miss E. Telford; gowns committee, Miss H. Kennedy; Miss D. Evans, H. L. Coleman; librarian, H. L. Coleman.

A social hour then followed, when games were enjoyed by the members. Miss Agnes Hood and Mrs. James Brown were the winners in the contest game.

The sacred cantata, "Ruth," will be given at the church in the afternoon of October 25. The members are giving extra practice on the work of this cantata at the present time.

Bitten several times before by reptiles in similar demonstrations, Anderson told friends the poison relieved him of high blood pressure.

By-election Held In New Zealand

Auckland, N.Z., Oct. 1.—In the first by-election held since New Zealand's Labor government took office last December, Labor retained the riding of Manukau, North Island. The Labor candidate, Osborne, polled 8,241 votes. The National candidate, Dudge, polled 3,830.

The vacancy was caused by the appointment of the sitting member, W. J. Jordan, as High Commissioner to Great Britain.

The result is regarded in ministerial circles as an emphatic endorsement of the government's policy.

B.C. Goods More Popular

C. W. Moore, sales manager, Royal City Canned Foods Co., returned recently from Winnipeg, flying back to the coast. The trip was made in one of the new soundproof, ten-passenger planes. "A most comfortable trip," said Mr. Moore. "The planes are air-conditioned, with individual reading lamps, adjustable seats, air cushions and air pillows, magazines, cigarettes and exceptionally fine lunches, including hot tea or coffee, or cold soft drinks. It goes almost without saying that the scenery viewed from such an altitude is unsurpassed. "Conditions in the prairies are probably a little improved over last year, some districts being better and some much worse. Crops suffered severely in many sections from drought, but in some districts, such as Regina, Moose Jaw, and Yorkton, where crops were poor last year, they are very good this year." Mr. Moore states that the Royal City lines are becoming increasingly popular on the prairies. This gives employment to more people, as all Royal City lines are packed in B.C.

High Cards Worthless

Player, Holding "the Deck," Doubles Opponent, and Discovers He Can Take Only Two Tricks

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

Every person who has progressed beyond the primary stages of bridge realizes that distribution often is far more important than aces and kings. Void suits, and thus the power to ruff, make aces and kings valueless in many hands. Often a player with tremendous offensive and defensive strength finds his kings and queens of no more worth than a handful of deuces and treys would have been.

In today's hand, South holds what some bridge players call "the deck." By any high card count, he has a powerful hand, one so strong that he does not expect either opponent to enter the bidding, and also so powerful that he fears a pass by his partner. He would have fared better if he had been a little more pessimistic and opened with two no trump.

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

When the opening lead of diamond king was ruffed in the closed hand, South still felt that he probably would defeat the contract, as there was a chance that North held the heart ace and there were only two

Today's Contract Problem

West opened the bidding with one diamond. North doubled. East injected a bid of one spade, and South finally got the contract for three no trump. The first trick is won with the diamond king and the spade queen is led. What card should East play to this trick, and why?

small trump in dummy to ruff losing clubs.

However, his hopes of a set that would teach East his place and a proper respect for big hands was gone. He would have been satisfied with a set of one trick, after the loss of that first trick. But even that was not to be, it seemed.

East cashed the ace of hearts, entered dummy with the ace of clubs, discarded a club on the king of hearts, ruffed a diamond in his own hand, and used both of dummy's small trump to ruff his losing clubs.

The declarer was generous after that, however, and made no effort to shut out either the ace or queen of trump. Since these were the only tricks that South won, the contract was made with one overtrick.

"Currency stability," he said, "is only one of the barriers to a more free flow of international trade. Mr. Roper said the understanding by Great Britain, France and the United States "will establish more uniform and friendly relationships between the countries. "I understand that the whole programme contemplates a lowering of trade barriers," he added. "I believe it has established a new thinking—a co-operative relationship—which makes for an increase of trade."

Death of Local Girl Accident

Ladysmith, Oct. 1.—A verdict of accidental death was returned here Tuesday by a jury investigating the death of Miss Cicely Nelson of Victoria, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on the Island Highway.

Harry Hickling of Nanaimo acted as coroner.

Testimony submitted indicated that the car was traveling at a comparatively moderate speed when the outside wheels left the tarred road and struck loose gravel in rounding Reid's Corner. In the attempt to regain the hard surface the rear wheels skidded, breaking the left rear wheel and causing the car to overturn.

Urgent! A certain store had advertised buckets at 25c each. The door opened. There was a rush. An old lady shouted: "Stand back Give the lady air!" Up jumped the lady. "It's not air I want. It's a bucket!"

Reg Wenman Tops Cricket Averages For 1936 Season

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH THIS year's world baseball series in full swing at New York between the Giants and Yankees, our memory goes back to one of the most thrilling, soul-stirring ball games ever played, one in which Freddie Lindstrom, now voluntarily retired, twice figured as the individual victim of the whims of something called fate.

It was an outside chance that the first break for the Senators could ever happen. But it did and the desperate, rallying Senators raced into a spectacular tie. It was even a greater gamble that the play wouldn't be repeated, that this pebble never again could deflect a seemingly certain out into a hit. But it did and the Senators scored a run, won the game and the world baseball championship.

With the series standing at two games each, the deciding clash on October 10, 1924, the game the Senators won in the twelfth, 4 to 3, was a spectacular exhibition, seen before, nor equalled since. Writing in the October issue of All-Sports Magazine, Frank G. Menke gives the details of that epic game as follows:

"Thirty-two men figured in that contest—almost enough to man two teams. Each played his part heroically, majestically, through every second of those tense, feverish twelve innings. Yet it was none of these men—nor all of them—which made the final decision. It was fate—or call it destiny—which ended the titanic deadlock, using as its medium the most insignificant thing on the earth.

"A pebble no larger than a marble.

"A pebble that meant a $50,000 difference in the payoff, because if it hadn't been so placed the Giants would have won and received $5,750 each, instead of the loser's end of $3,250 apiece."

Further describing the game, the writer tells about the eighth inning:

"Now it was three up, two out—Stanley Harris up and a long hit needed to tie up or win the game that meant the baseball glory of the world.

"Harris drove a low screacher directly at Lindstrom, who set himself to take it on the first bounce. The ball hit the ground, six feet or so in front of Lindstrom—or rather, it hit the pebble. Then it did a crazy thing. Instead of the normal bound, the ball scooped high into the air, cleared Lindstrom's head and his upstretched arms and rolled into left field while Leibold and Ruel raced home with the runs that tied the score.

"Lindstrom, bewildered by the eccentric action of the ball, walked to where it had struck the ground, saw the pebble, kicked it angrily to the grass near the dugout.

"The twelfth inning now.

"The Giants failed to score in their half.

"Miller, first man up for the Senators, was out. Frisch to Kelly. Ruel up. Ruel sent up a high foul. Gowdy camped under it. As the ball came down, Hank started to discard his mask so that he could see it better. The mask became tangled in Gowdy's hand, the ball fell and Hank muffed it. Ruel had another chance—because Fate had so willed.

"Ruel connected with the next one, and it was good for two bases. McMillen up. McMillen swung—and the ball screamed toward Lindstrom. The drive was an exact duplicate of that of Harris's in the eighth. Lindstrom played it for the first bounce.

"The ball hit the ground. Rather, it hit a pebble. It might have been a pebble other than the pebble of the eighth inning. But Lindstrom swung again that it was the same. If so, how it got back to the identical spot will remain a mystery through eternity. But there it was—a pebble—just the whistling baseball, landed squarely on top of it.

"The ball leaped crazily, far over Lindstrom's head. It rolled into left field, hugging the foul line. Instantly that it came beyond Lindstrom's reach, Ruel started for third, was flagged for home, and broke nine world's sprinting records to score the run that ended the most remarkable baseball game ever played.

Leader of Incogs First In Bowling And Batting Lists

E. S. Fox, Cowichan, Second in Scoring Division; Jack Bryden Bowling Runner-up

L. Gibbons Has Highest Score

Reg Wenman, captain of the league champion Incogs and long rated one of Western Canada's leading cricketers, topped both batting and bowling averages during the season just completed. Ainslie Heimeken, secretary of the Victoria and District Cricket League, announced today.

The lanky veteran established the creditable average of 44 runs each time at bat, although his highest score in league cricket this year was only 64. In the bowling lists he took 44 wickets for 165 runs, or an average of one wicket for every 3.75.

E. S. Fox, Cowichan, placed second to Wenman in the batting, setting an average of 38.66 runs for each time at bat, while Jack Bryden, another Incog, was second in the bowling, taking nine wickets for 60 runs for an average of one wicket for 6.66.

Les Gibbons of the Albions established the highest score in one match, with a 110.

The averages, compiled from league games only, follow:

OTTAWA WILL MAKE FIGHT

Make Every Effort to Keep U.S. Imports on Their Canadian Grid Team

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Determined that Stan O'Neill and Tony Rosso, American players, would not be lost to the team without a fight, Ottawa Roughriders Football Club today opened war against the edict of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union barring eleven United States players from the Big Four this season.

Telegrams to the I.R.F.U. president, W. R. Tope Hamilton, requesting that a meeting of the union executive and the board of governors to discuss the matter were opening salutes in the Ottawa club's fight.

The local executive was emphatic in its stand that until such a meeting is held it would consider O'Neill and Rosso eligible and play them here Saturday against Toronto Argonauts.

SEÑOR MARTINCHO—famous 18th century Spanish matador, FOUGHT BULLFIGHTS WHILE SEATED IN A CHAIR!

COUNT MAZZAGLIA CUTELLI—RENOVED SOUND EFFECTS ARTIST, CAN PRODUCE OVER 2,000 SOUND IMITATIONS WITH HIS VOICE ALONE.

WAS THE ORIGINAL "RAVEN" A "WHITE OWL"?

WHITE OWL ODE
IN DISMAL, GLOOMY, CRUMBLING HALLS,
BETWIXT MOSS-COVERED, REEKING WALLS,
AN EXILED POET LAY—
ON HIS BED OF STRAW RECLINING,
HALF-DESPAIRING, HALF-REPINING—
WHEN ATTHWART THE WINDOW SILL
IN FLEW A BIRD OF OMEN ILL,
AND SEEMED INCLINED TO STAY."

WRITTEN OVER 1700 YEARS BEFORE EDGAR ALLAN POE'S IMMORTAL "RAVEN," THIS POEM BY CHIA I, CHINESE POET, STRIKINGLY RESEMBLES IT IN THOUGHT AND STYLE!

THE GIANT WISTARIA VINE—of Fern Lake Ranch, Montell, Texas, HAS OVER 10,000 FEET OF TENDRILS, A GAGE 49 INCHES IN CIRCUMFERENCE AND IS 52 YEARS OLD

RAVEN VS. WHITE OWL . . .
Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered, weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore . . .
Could it have been possible that one of those "quaint and curious volumes of forgotten lore" contained the "White Owl Ode" by the ancient Chinese poet, Chia I, and that it was this work that inspired Edgar Allan Poe to write his immortal "Raven"?
Be that as it may, note the resemblance between the poems in the following excerpts:
The Raven: While I nodded, nearly napping . . .
White Owl: Half despairing, half repining . . .
The Raven: Open here I flung the shutter, when, with many a flutter, there stepped a stately raven, white owl . . .
White Owl: When athwart the window all in flew a bird of omen ill, and seemed inclined to stay . . .
The Raven: . . . thinking what this ominous bird of yore . . .
The thought, mood, spirit and even style seems astonishingly similar, yet, strange as it seems, the "White Owl Ode" was written in China about 1700 years before "The Raven" was first published in 1845, more than 1,700 years later!

SOUND IMITATOR . . .
It is Count Cutelli's proud boast that never yet has he found any sound on earth which he is unable to imitate so closely no one can detect the difference. While most mechanical noises call for the use of part of his elaborate sound reproducing equipment, Count Cutelli can imitate more than 2,000 sounds with his voice alone!

PATTY BERG IS DEFEATED

Minneapolis Youngster Loses to Mrs. Hill in U.S. Women's Golf

Summit, N.J., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Opal Hill, Kansas City veteran, regarded by many experts as North America's untroubled match play queen, ended the championship ambitions of eighteen-year-old Patty Berg yesterday by beating the Minneapolis sensation 4 and 3, as the field in the fourth United States women's golf tournament was reduced to eight quarter-finalists.

Mrs. Hill's smashing victory over the 1936 runner-up, to Glenna Collett Vare and the pre-tournament favorite, Beatrice Barrett, grab part of the spotlight by eliminating the qualifying medalist, Estelle Lawson Page, Greensboro, N.C., 2 and 1. Patty's downfall and "Bea's" ascendancy both occurred in the third round.

Most of the ranking favorites survived the long diurnal day, playing the afternoon round in an icy, penetrating rain.

Besides Mrs. Hill and Miss Barrett, others who gained the round of eight were Miss Barton, who was to meet the Minneapolis girl this afternoon; Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Carl H. Conner, Springfield, N.J.; Mrs. Shepherd, Kathryn Hemphill, Columbia, S.C.; and Maureen Orcutt, Crews, Englewood, N.J., Mrs. Hill's next opponent.

The J.B.A.A. senior rugby fifteen will hold a workout at Macdonald Park this evening at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

Cricketers Will Visit California

Arrangements are now under way for an interchange of visits between cricket teams of California and British Columbia next season, Ainslie Heimeken, secretary of the Victoria and District Cricket Association, announced today. All plans will be referred to the annual meeting of that body at the end of this month for final approval, but the tours were more or less definite today, Mr. Heimeken said.

The arrangements call for the visit of Pasadena and the Los Angeles Corinthians to British Columbia in July. They will be followed, according to present plans, by two teams from San Francisco in August. In September, it is proposed British Columbia will send three teams south to play in San Francisco and the Los Angeles district. The Californians are scheduled to play in Victoria and Vancouver during their trip north.

BOUT PUT OFF UNTIL MONDAY

Canzoneri Gets Three-day Postponement Owing to Injured Face

New York, Oct. 1.—With the scheduled ten-round bout between Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, and Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, once holder of the welter crown, three days farther off, both battles eased off in their training routine and marked time.

The bout, scheduled for Friday night, was postponed until next Monday after Canzoneri suffered a severe split lip during a sparring bout.

The winner is slated for a chance at the welterweight crown, held by Barney Ross.

The forthcoming bout will mark the return of McLarnin to the ring wars for the first time since he suffered a twelve-round defeat at the hands of Canzoneri last spring.

MCCOY GIVEN TOUGH BATTLE

Boston Heavyweight Rallies to Win Decision From Charlie Belanger

Quebec, Oct. 1.—Al McCoy, the Boston heavyweight, who claims birth in Quebec's Beauce County as Florian Lebrasseur, rallied in the last round last night to win a fifteen-round decision from Charlie Belanger, Winnipeg, in the main bout of a boxing card.

Belanger entered the ring at 187½ lbs. McCoy weighed 185.

The fight was billed as for the Canadian heavyweight championship, but a few hours before the battles entered the ring, Frank Hogan, chairman of the Canadian Boxing Federation, said in Montreal the federation would not recognise the bout as such.

This decision was reached, he said, after McCoy's handlers failed to provide the federation with his birth certificate, a necessary procedure to gain titular recognition for the fight.

DONKEY BALL GAME TONIGHT

Cox's Army to Meet Gyros in Exhibition at Willows Horse Show Building

Donkey baseball, the sport that has been giving sports fans of the northwest so many laughs in recent weeks, will make its bow to Victorians tonight at the Willows Horse Show Building at 8 o'clock.

Games will also be played tomorrow and Saturday evenings with the exhibition being conducted under the auspices of the Gyro Club in aid of their charity fund.

Tonight's contending teams will be Cox's Army, under the leadership of that great funster Rebel Mowat, and the Gyros, with Everett Taylor as their skipper. Mowat stated today he had all his men on their toes for the game and promised the fans a lot of extra laughs when his boys take the field.

The burros arrived in the city today from Nanaimo and were taken on parades around the city.

Defeat Wanderers and Navy in Wednesday League Football Games; Hudson's Bay and Longshoremen Engage in 1 to 1 Deadlock

As teams in the Wednesday Football League emerged from their second week of contesting for the Hayward Cup, the outcome of a trio of fixtures played yesterday was one draw and a pair of shutout victories.

Hudson's Bay fought the aggressive Victoria Longshoremen to a 1 to 1 standstill after a fierce battle in the opening tussle of a twin bill at the Athletic Park, while the second portion of the bill saw Spencer's score a 4 to 0 decision over a sluggish James Bay Wanderers eleven. At Work Point Barracks, the Navy squad came through with a 2 to 0 win over the Garrison. Both clubs fielded scrub teams.

BAYS VICTORY

Both tallies in the Bays-Longshoremen match took place in the initial stanza. Frustrating an attack on the part of the Longshoremen about 18 minutes after the start, the Bays engineered a forward rush that resulted in a goal. Fish, stalwart Bay man, received the ball on his right wing, and a long shot sped past goalie Fleming for a goal.

For the next 20 minutes the Longshoremen were on the offensive. Although they missed all of a half-dozen attempts at the goal mouth, a hand ball by O'Connell gave the Longshoremen a penalty kick. "Scotty" McGee, centre half, made it count, to deadlock the score 1 to 1.

During the entire second session play saw-sawed back and forth. Although many attempts were made by both sides at the goals, none clicked, being either wild, checked by the defencemen or trapped by the alert goalies.

Teddy Hawkes refereed.

The teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Travis, Kennedy, O'Connell, Oakman, Kennedy, Stokes, English, Fish, L. Strickland, Duncan, Wyatt and Williamson.

Longshoremen—Fleming, Eastwood, Belford, Fieldhouse, McGee, Bray, Resell, Holmes, Murray, Rogers, Roskamp and Hall.

SPENCERS WIN

Right from the starting whistle the Diamond B boys steered the ball into the territory occupied by the striped blue-and-white-sweatered Wanderers and tried for a goal twice, but Sadler, the James Bay boys' goalie, was on his toes and warded them off. After 15 minutes of pressing Spencers kicked. Sadler came out to try and stop Wally Stewart. Spence's centre half, from scoring, but the tricky pivot man drove it right past him into an empty net.

It was not more than 5 minutes later that the score went to 2 to 0, the goal being scored by Bernie Clarke, inside right.

The Wanderers managed to relieve pressure, but were unable to score. The scoring of the half-ended with 2 minutes to go, when Stewart netted his second corner.

The James Bay squad seemed to lose its ambition to play in the second half, with only the defence men and the goalie working hard. The fourth and last marker came, after 20 minutes when Stewart registered his third goal.

Percy Shrimpton handled the whistle.

The teams follow:

Spencers—Stewartson, Cann, Munroe, L. Bradley, Chapman, D. Bradley, Brown, Clarke, Stewart, Collins and McMillan.

James Bay Wanderers—C. Sadler, Coates, W. Gilling, W. Sadler, Thame, T. Smith, White, Alcock, I. Gilling, Clancy and Watson.

NAVY BEATS ARMY

Bagging the hemp once in each half, Cecil Cockrill, thrifty centre forward, gave the Navy a 2 to 0 victory over the Work Point boys on the latter's grounds. The soldiers were good opponents for the Navy in the first 10 minutes of play, but after that they were never really dangerous.

Glendenning, in the army goal, turned in a sparkling performance and cleared away many hard shots. The first-half tally came late in the canto when Cockrill beat Glendenning from close range. As the second half opened the Navy muffed on many scoring chances and only once managed to get the ball past the army netminder. Cockrill chalked up the marker "on an individual effort after taking DeCosta's pass.

D. McMillan refereed.

Navy—Mundie, Hall, Dovey, Hut-ton, Hibbert, W. DeCosta, Brown, McLean, Cockrill, Sands and Walker.

Garrison—Glendenning, Richard, Ross, Stewart, Cook, Edwards, Caldwell, Wilkinson, Walker, Worswick, Thorburn and Loveless.

INDIANS NOW AT TORONTO

North Shore Lacrosse Squad All Set For Boxla Final With Orillia

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Bristling with confidence, North Shore Indian lacrosse team of Vancouver arrived in Toronto today for their Canadian senior championship series with Orillia Terriers.

Fifteen Indians representing the Squamish reserve on Vancouver Harbor's North Shore made the trip from Winnipeg, where they captured the western Canada title. It was the club's first trip east, although many of its members have performed here with other clubs.

"We have a darn good club," Art Woodhouse, club president, said on arrival. "I think it is the best team to come out of the west and we will give the Terriers a battle all the way."

The Braves were all fully confident they would win the Canadian title for the first time and break Orillia's hold on the prized Mann Cup. Terriers have taken the Dominion championship the last two years.

WORKOUT TODAY

Manager Andy Paul, a full-blooded Indian chief, was confident his warriors would beat the Terriers, but had little to say. To rid them of "journey-sickness" and get accustomed to the concrete floor of Maple Leaf Gardens, the western titleholders were to hold a one-hour practice later today.

Not given much of a chance when their all-star club of last season was wrecked by other clubs seeking players of championship calibre, Terriers improved as the season advanced until today all their players are classed as veterans or near veterans.

But four of their team last season departed for other points and the present band is built around those four.

Youngsters To Usher in Play

The Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association will usher in its season's play on Saturday, when three games are slated, with all starting times set for 10:30 o'clock.

Victoria West Cubs will stack up against Hill's Gracie at Heywood Avenue in the under eighteen division, with D. Swan tooting the whistle. Capitols got a bye.

The under sixteen opener will bring together Esquimalt Meat Market and Strawberry Vale at Buley Park. E. Borde will referee.

St. Louis College will oppose the Esquimalt Meat Market at Central Park in the under fourteen division. W. Cull will officiate. V.A.C. have a bye.

FIGHT RESULTS

Des Moines, Ia.—Jackie Sharkey, 132, Minneapolis, outpointed Jimmy Le Gromie, 135, Des Moines (ten).

San Francisco—Lee Savoldi, 183, St. Paul, stopped Karl Walker, 179, Los Angeles (six).

Quebec—Al McCoy, 185, Boston, outpointed Charlie Belanger, 187½, Winnipeg.

Second Game Of World Ball Series Postponed Until Tomorrow

Teams Forced to Take Holiday By Overnight Rain

Polo Grounds in Bad Condition; Giants Now Even Favorites to Win

Better Break In Weather Forecast

New York, Oct. 1.—A heavy overnight rain turned the Polo Grounds into a miniature lake today and forced postponement of the second game of the world series between the New York Giants and New York Yankees.

Weather permitting—and there were indications that a two-day spell of intermittent rain finally was ready to call a halt—the game will be played tomorrow at the Polo Grounds.

The series schedule, calling for the third, fourth and fifth games to be played at the Polo Grounds, simply will move back one day.

The postponement was ordered by Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, after he had made a tour of inspection of the rain-soaked grounds.

In the left field section where yesterday's rain had driven Yankee relief pitchers over to the Giants' bullpen because of "high water," there was a virtual lake and the infield, though it had been protected by covers during the night, was quagmire.

BETTING ODDS CHANGE

The pitching mastery of Carl Hubbell and the mudhorse talent of his mates shifted the betting odds sharply in favor of the Giants today.

While old man weather washed out the second game, the betting fraternity about-faced from the previous odds of 11 to 20, with the Yankees favorite, and made it 4 to 5, and take your choice.

A HEAT INSULATOR

A NEW heat-insulating material, called aluminum metallic foil, is claimed to be equal in effect to thirteen inches of brick! It has the appearance of the familiar tin foil.

The construction of ships, railway coaches, motor-cars and all kinds of buildings may be revolutionized by its discovery.

Experiments made with police helmets in London, showed that when the temperature inside the hat with the lining was 109, with the ordinary lining it was 120. In a liner cabin, near the funnel, it was brought down to 87 by inserting a sheet of the new foil.

This insulating material also has the great advantage of being cheap, costing not more than twenty cents a square yard.

LOPEZ BEATS DAVE LEVIN

Heavyweight Wrestling Title Claimant Beaten Second Time This Week

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—Dave Levin's last vestige of the heavyweight wrestling championship was reported gone in California today as Vincent Lopez, his conqueror last night, filed claim to title recognition.

Forty-eight hours after he was trounced in Philadelphia by Dean Dixon, Salt Lake City, Levin, ex-Brooklyn butcher boy, met a similar fate at the hands of Lopez, Idaho Mexican.

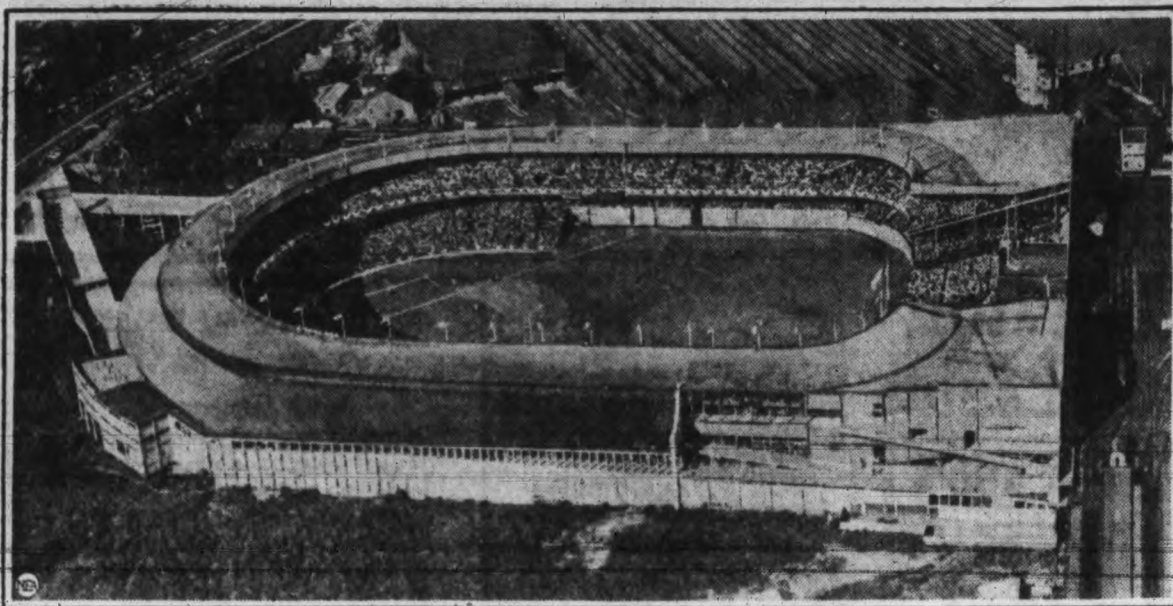

A capacity house of 10,000 fans saw both grapplers tumble out of the Olympic ring and Lopez scramble back to win the first fall. Levin retaliated with a hammerlock to receive the second pat on the back by the referee.

The deciding fall resulted when Lopez whirled Levin with an airplane spin.

Odor Is Added To Flowers

Ithaca, N.Y.—Gladoli, which adds to their familiar beauty the charm of fragrant perfume, were introduced to the public at the flower show at Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y. A new double-flowered type of this flower was also exhibited for the first time.

Poison Gas Is Deadly to Bugs

Geneva, N.Y.—Poison gas may be outlawed by the nations as an instrument of war, but it is urged for use now by Dr. D. M. Daniel of the State Experiment Station at Geneva, New York.

Geneva, Switzerland, may have frowned upon it, but Geneva, N.Y., has found virtue in it in the great war against peach-tree borers.

Gas your peach trees now, urges Dr. Daniel. He recommends "P.D.B." or, if you prefer the longer chemical name, paradichlorobenzene.

Poison Gas Is Deadly to Bugs

Geneva, N.Y.—Poison gas may be outlawed by the nations as an instrument of war, but it is urged for use now by Dr. D. M. Daniel of the State Experiment Station at Geneva, New York.

Geneva, Switzerland, may have frowned upon it, but Geneva, N.Y., has found virtue in it in the great war against peach-tree borers.

Gas your peach trees now, urges Dr. Daniel. He recommends "P.D.B." or, if you prefer the longer chemical name, paradichlorobenzene.

Washington leads in water power.

Washington, D.C.—The state of Washington leads the United States in potential water-power resources with 8,700,000 horsepower available 90 per cent of the time, according to a new estimate just announced by the U.S. Geological Survey at Washington.

D.C. Next comes California with 4,600,000 horsepower, and Oregon with 4,361,000. These three states together possess more than 40 per cent of the total potential water-power resources of the United States.

Portland Captures Coast Ball Title

Defeats Oakland 8 to 3 For Fourth Victory in Five Games; Beavers Hang Up Splendid Record For Season

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 1.—A seasoned, hard-hitting team, with a steady corps of flingers, held the 1936 Pacific Coast League championship today.

Which is to say that Portland's Beavers wrapped up the bunting last night by knocking off Oakland 8 to 3 in the deciding game of the Shaughnessy plan finals.

Portland last won the championship in 1932.

Portland left no doubt in the minds of fans as to which was the best team in the league.

The Beavers finished on top in the regular season, polished off Seattle in the playoff semi-finals with four straight wins, then took four out of five from Oakland.

Last night's triumph was hardly in doubt from the first inning, when the hard-hitting combination of Manager Bill Sweeney, Johnny Frederick, Moose Clabaugh, Earl Brucker, et al., drummed Ken Douglas off the hill in the first inning.

Dud Lee's walk, four singles and an error gave the Beavers five runs and drove Douglas to the showers.

Portland grabbed off $5,500 of the $10,000 playoff fund, which means a "cut" of about $220 to each player.

The Beavers won $2,500 for finishing ahead at the end of the schedule.

Germany Makes New Enamel

Washington.—A new cellulose enamel is on the market in Germany under the trade name of "Enamillol" which is said to be insoluble in water, benzene, alcohol, turpentine and acetone, according to the report of Trade Commissioner R. M. Stephenson at Berlin to the Department of Commerce at Washington, D.C. The material is highly resistant to weathering, acids, alkalis and mechanical rubbing. It is non-inflammable and can be applied to wood, paper, pulp, cellulose, metals, glass, tile, stone, plaster and glass.

Both in Trouble

Old Farmer Hayseed had bought an ancient motor-car at an auction sale in a nearby town. After a great deal of argument he managed to persuade his neighbor to come for a joy-ride.

"They started off very well, but after descending a steep hill the car gathered much more speed and the passenger began to get alarmed."

"Hayseed," he cried, "I'll give ye a tip-in note if ye'll stop and let me out."

The other swung the vehicle round a sharp bend.

"I'll give ye a tanner," he replied anxiously, "if ye'll tell me how to!"

Forest Crops Must Be Protected In B.C.

Chief Forester Says Remedial Measures Needed to Promote Regeneration and Protect Young Growth

British Columbia must follow the example of the States of Washington and Oregon and institute measures to promote regeneration of its forest crops, and to protect young growth, E. C. Manning, chief forester, believes, following a two-week survey of forest conditions in the north-west states.

"Mr. Manning made this clear, today, and said he was more than ever convinced, after his tour, that remedial action was necessary here."

He discounted, to some extent, the value of selective logging methods, saying they had little to offer the forester in his desire to avoid waste and leave logged areas in a productive state.

"I return home with evidence corroborative of certain trends in forest conditions, which we have been observing in British Columbia, and more than ever convinced that remedial action is necessary, Mr. Manning said."

"I find that, as in British Columbia, a large portion of the cut-over lands in the Douglas fir region are not reproducing satisfactorily, and in recognition of this the industry and the forest services are taking definite action to promote regeneration and to protect the young growth."

"We should work along similar lines. To do otherwise simply means that we are content to harvest a crop worth in many cases $100 or more per acre, and leave in its place large areas not only devoid of crop, but robbed of productivity."

TRUCKING METHODS

"The extent of the development of transportation of logs by truck, associated with the use of caterpillars in the woods, is surprising. This makes available for logging many areas not hitherto considered accessible, as the public highways can now be used for special truck roads built instead of the former expensive logging railroads."

"I find a growing realization in Washington and Oregon of the value of the forest for recreational purposes. Bitterroot forest values have been almost entirely measured in terms of lumber and other wood products. In the development of forest policy in British Columbia, the interests of the recreationist, the tourist and the sportsman can be recognized, while still insuring the future supplies of an industry which to date has been the largest factor in the economic development of the province."

Revision Court Hears Appeals

Scant changes were made in assessments in response to six appeals governing twelve pieces of property as the court of revision on the assessment roll opened its hearings at the City Hall today.

"A reduction of $260 was made on improvements but no change was granted on land."

The court, composed of Aldermen T. W. C. Hawkins, Andrew McGavin and Stanley Okell adjourned after hearing the first cases and will resume sittings on Tuesday next at 2 o'clock. Forty-eight appeals were on file for the group's consideration.

St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, will hold its annual harvest thanksgiving services this week, the opening service being tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Bishop Sexton will be the special preacher. On Sunday the services will be continued, and Bishop Lloyd will preach at the 11 o'clock service. There will be a children's service in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, and evening service at 7 o'clock.

GIVEN LEAVE TO CARRY ON

Executor of Deceased Sophia Dymond to Be Plaintiff in Appeal

William P. Dymond, executor of the deceased Sophia Dymond, was granted a reviver order by the B.C. Court of Appeal late yesterday enabling him to take the place of the deceased in an appeal against the judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson in Supreme Court.

The appeal arises from an accident in which Sophia Dymond, plaintiff, was injured in a fall when a veranda rail gave way. She claimed damages from Victoria Jane Wilson, owner of the property. Her action was dismissed in the Supreme Court, but she sought an appeal. The plaintiff died following the Supreme Court judgment and in her will appointed her brother, William P. Dymond, her executor.

He applied through Norman Whitaker for leave to carry on the appeal.

P. C. Elliott took the position the action had ended with the judgment and there was no action pending. He cited the case of Sunder Singh vs. Moore (1922) 21 B.C. 67.

The court pointed to the difference between the two cases, noting the Sunder Singh case was a worked out action, while the Dymond-Wilson case, the notice of appeal had been served and security for costs ordered. The steps taken constituted an action pending in the Court of Appeal, the court ruled.

The appeal will be placed on the list.

Red Cross Issues Appeal For Help

Society Makes Plea For Aid in Work of Aiding Others; Campaign in City is Extended

It is not often that the Red Cross, whose business it is to care for appeals from others, has to issue an urgent appeal on its own account.

This morning Hugh Birch-Jones, provincial commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, made such a plea on behalf of the society's present campaign in Victoria to raise the sum of $15,000 for local and provincial needs.

The campaign, officially scheduled to close today, has been extended until the end of the week, and the offices of the society in the Belmont Building will be open for another two weeks to receive belated contributions.

The extension has been necessary because less than one quarter of the objective has so far been donated.

In making their urgent appeal for additional funds and for a more universal interest in their work, the directors of the campaign wish to stress the following points:

LOW ADMINISTRATION

All money received in the campaign will go to help others. The administration costs of the Red Cross are probably the lowest of any society in existence. There are only two paid employees in the whole of British Columbia for the Canadian Red Cross Society itself, and an additional two to care for the Junior Red Cross. All the rest of the work is voluntary.

Red tape is not encouraged by Red Cross officials, a fact which makes for low operating expenses.

The Red Cross depends for its support almost entirely on voluntary subscriptions.

The work of the Red Cross, consisting in the provision of clothing and other necessities for the unfortunate in distant places, the operation of hospitals and nursing services in remote spots, and the mobilization of large quantities of material and supplies, costs money. The Red Cross donates services, does not sell them.

The Red Cross is not purely a charity organization. Developed to its present status in the great war, it is essentially a body prepared to handle any emergency, whether of war or peace. It is the most swiftly-moving agency in any calamity, whether two people or 2,000 be involved.

Without public support the Red Cross cannot continue a work whose place could not be filled by any other agency. It appeals in the strongest manner to the people of Victoria to help, both financially and by their friendly interest, in making the continuance of that work possible.

Contributions to the present campaign will be received until the end of the week at the campaign headquarters, 637 Fort Street, almost directly opposite The Times building, telephone Empire 4532, and after that time at the society's regular offices in the Belmont Building.

GREAT MARKET LIES AT DOOR

Canadians Should Know Australians Better, Says Col. L. M. Cosgrave

"Australia offers an excellent market to Canada and to British Columbia particularly and Canadians should do everything within their power to extend that market. It is only through reciprocity that impetus to permanent trade can be given," said Col. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian government trade commissioner to Australia, who is in Victoria today on his way back to Melbourne.

The presence of the trade commissioner here at this time carries important significance in view of the pending departure of Canada's Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. W. D. Buler, to discuss revisions of trade agreements with the Antipodean Dominions.

Col. Cosgrave declined to discuss the trade agreement revision angle when seen at the Empress Hotel today, confining his observations to the opportunities afforded for the development of trade with Australia.

PROSPEROUS COUNTRY
"Australia, outside of South Africa, is the most prosperous nation within the Empire," said Col. Cosgrave, pointing out that after making provision in her budget for $45,000,000 for defence measures, the country has a net surplus, over and above that of $8,000,000.

Col. Cosgrave said the Australians would like to see more Canadian business heads visit their country. This would do more than anything else to cement the trade relations between the two countries.

The balance of trade at the present time favors Canada with Australia importing $25,000,000 in Canadian products annually, as compared with $7,000,000 of Australian products taken by Canada.

Col. Cosgrave will be in the city several days interviewing local manufacturers and business houses. He was making the rounds this morning with T. J. Goodlake.

C. S. SORENSON TO LIVE HERE

Famous Lumber Man Retiring After Twenty Years on West Coast

One of the best-known figures on Vancouver Island's west coast, Charles S. Sorenson is retiring after twenty years in the lumber business at Jordan River and Port Renfrew, and will make his home in Victoria.

Mr. Sorenson, a Norwegian by birth, admitted at the Dominion Hotel this morning that he had "finished up."

He returned to Victoria a few days ago after traveling across the continent to New York to meet his wife and daughter on their way back from a holiday in Norway.

Mr. Sorenson does not yet know where he will live in Victoria, but he says he is looking forward to settling down to a quiet life in the city.

When asked, if he coming here meant his complete retirement from business, he only smiled and would give no definite answer.

Property Value Case in Court

Forced Sale No Index of Proper Value, M. B. Jackson Contends in Appeal

Contending that the price a property would realize under a forced sale could not be considered fair value, M. B. Jackson, K.C., continued argument today before the British Columbia Court of Appeal on behalf of the Minister of Finance in the appeal against the decision of Mr. Justice Robertson on the valuation of the Max Leiser estate for succession duty purposes.

Yesterday A. D. Crease moved to quash the appeal on the grounds the case was incomplete in the Supreme Court. In that court a valuation had been sought along with the rate which should be applied for succession duties. In his judgment, Mr. Justice Robertson set the value but not the duty rate. On those grounds, Mr. Crease claimed the case was incomplete and an appeal was out of time. The court ruled otherwise and the appeal continued.

Mr. Jackson cited the original statement by the executors on the various properties in question. One value of the Cecil Hotel had originally been set at $52,800 by the executors, while the evaluator for the Minister of Finance had increased that estimate by $1,000. Subsequently the executors had reduced their valuation to $15,000.

WIDE DIVERGENCE
Other properties had shown a similar wide divergence in valuations.

Mr. Justice McPhillips put forward the view a "fair value" was what the property would yield if it were put under the hammer at the date of death. He noted that if such property were evaluated at a price higher than could be realized, the heirs to it might be reduced to paying paying duties and taxes.

Mr. Jackson contended the government was trying to protect the heirs by sustaining the price to avoid a sacrifice.

A case involving the sale of shares was cited, showing how value had been placed at five cents a share at the date of death for duty purposes when the issue had risen to be worth forty cents at a later date.

Mr. Jackson reiterated his claim that a "fair value" could not be taken as the price a forced sale would yield for a time when economic conditions had removed the market altogether.

James F. Man and P. G. Powles, executors for the Leiser estate, are respondents in the appeal and are represented by Mr. Crease.

Record Births At St. Joseph's

The stork kept the maternity ward of St. Joseph's Hospital busy last month. Forty-five babies were born there, seventeen boys and twenty-eight girls, making a record number for the institution.

In August the Royal Jubilee Hospital broke its record with forty-two births, but last month the number of babies born there dropped to twenty-four.

Community singing and comic speeches were features of the meeting of the H-Y Club on Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. Plans were discussed for sending members to a conference in Vancouver during Thanksgiving week. Dick Taylor spoke on "The Cruelty of Making Footballs and Rugby Balls Out of Pigs." Herb Brown on "The Finer Points of Ditch-digging." Don McLean on "What I Know About Chickens." Don Fields on "My Boyhood in Australia." Gordon Holmes on "What I Intend to Do in Future Life." Colon Finlayson on "Why Deep-sea Diving is My Favorite Hobby." and "Red" Mason on "Why Men Prefer Blondes." Herb Brown was present as a representative of Oak Bay High School and hopes to form a H-Y club among the Oak Bay boys.

My Boyhood Ambition

A SAILOR

"I always wanted lots of money so I could travel all over the world, and later on I had a great desire to follow the sea."

That was the reply of Robert J. (Bob) Smith, manager of Primley & Ritchie, when asked for his boyhood ambition.

"However, I failed to attain either ambition," he said.

"Bob's first job was working with his father in the photography business. His dad was the first Canadian Kodak agent in the city of Winnipeg."

"In those days the favorite weekend diversion for young couples was to hire a horse and buggy and go out and take pictures," Mr. Smith said.

If he had his life to live over again, "Bob" would do more traveling in his younger days.

"If you do not travel when you are young you always feel as if you have missed something. After one gets married and settled down, opportunity seldom arises to get around the world," Mr. Smith comments.

The above picture of "Bob" was taken in Winnipeg when he was nine years of age.

HOW CLUB CAN ASSIST YOUTH

Frank Paulding Tells Rotarians Young Men Need Help to Help Selves

"We should not coddle youth, but we should give young men every opportunity to achieve through themselves their ambitions and to find a place that is worth having in the community," was the answer given before Rotarians at their luncheon today by Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., to the question: "What can Rotary do to assist youth?"

"To work, think, labor, aspire and achieve" were the things which Mr. Paulding said the youth of today most required; and he added, "I cannot understand why his independence should have left the average young man, and I cannot understand his inertia in looking after his future."

Mr. Paulding first reviewed the background that youth faced, and then made several suggestions as to various means in which the Rotary Club could help.

Mr. Paulding thanked the club for its support of the Y.M.C.A. in the past.

The speaker was introduced by J. V. Johnson, chairman of the community service committee of the club, and thanked by Frank Doherty, president.

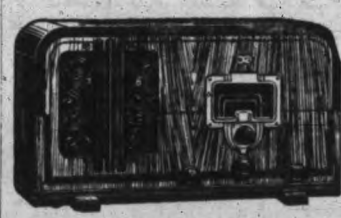

J. G. Simpson was elected a member of the club.

Rotarians were reminded of the superlative sale, to be held by the club on November 18 with proceeds going to charity.

Appointment of William B. Fraser of Uchelet as a stipendiary magistrate was announced at the Legislative Buildings this morning.

Economy and Balanced Budgets Called For By Opposition Leader

A policy of economy in governmental affairs, increased income tax in the higher brackets, refunding of debt and balanced budgets was outlined by Rev. Robert Connell, leader of the Opposition, as he gave the second of a series of four radio talks yesterday evening on his new party's programme.

"I think we ought to make our first principle of honest financial government policy the living within our income, or as a friend whose opinion I respect suggested the other day, no budget to exceed the amount of the previous year's income," he said.

"Today that would mean not only that we should stop incurring additional debt but we should actually have a surplus for the purchase of such bonds as the owners desire to refund."

With reference to refunding, Mr. Connell said the financial condition of the province was serious. Interest rates had come down generally but there was danger of default at the present rates.

CONVERSION PLANS
"We can, under these circumstances, go to our creditors quite frankly and say: 'We find the interest we are paying on our bonds is too heavy a burden, particularly since interest and profits generally have fallen. We offer you an extension of your bond at such-and-such a rate if you will accept it. If you will not, we shall have to take steps to redeem your bond forthwith at its market value.'"

Proposing a pay-as-you-go policy, he said that where loans were imperative, it should be held as a sacred obligation to see that sinking funds were set up and held inviolable.

"The more one looks at the facts of government expenditure the more convinced one must be, it seems to me, of the necessity of what we called planned economy in that field."

annually we go through the budget with its figures the more it appears that the time is ripe for a complete overhauling of our financial system, our income and our expenditure.

I sometimes think that if we would only stop challenging capitalism for a little and square up to the extravagances of our own governmental system we should be doing something not only more immediately of profit but of prime importance with relation to any new order we may look forward to."

LIMITATION OF POWERS
Mr. Connell discarded "short cuts" to financial stability as impractical, pointing out they overlooked the limitations of provincial powers. Just because New Zealand had accomplished certain things did not mean British Columbia could do them better.
